THE BROOKLYN SCANDAL.

Mr. Beach's Address to the Jury.

The Bacon Letter and Tripartite Covenant Analyzed.

NEW YORK, June 15, 1875.

The Brooklyn City Court room was again filled this morning, and the audience included many ladies. The plaintiff, Mr. Beach and ex-Judge Fullerton were in their places before the jury took their seats. The defendant was absent when the Court was opened, but was represented by his wife and his brother Edward. Mr. Beach, at five minutes after eleven, continued his address. He referred to in which Mr. Tilton had been arraigned for slandering his pastor. Then, said counsel, followed the council of the church, in which Mr. Tilton took no part, owing to a request of Beecher that he would not do so. There was a remarkable letter in this connection, written by Beecher to Moulton, dated March 25th, 1875. In it Beecher says that the course pursued by Dr. Storrs was an unspeakable outrage, that the professions of friendship advanced by Dr. Storrs were hollow and insincere, and that he was trying to goad Tilton into attacking him (Beecher). This letter clearly showed the jury the state of mind Beecher was in. Why did he dread the appearance of Tilton before the council? He was afraid of any investigation being made which would disclose the relations he had with the Tilton family. The counsel had spoken to them before about

The West Charges,

The Bacon Letter,

and he read to them a portion of Tilton's cross-examination in reference to that letter. The evidence in question tended to show Tilton had written the letter for the purpose of vindicating his wife and family. The jury could see under what circumstances the Bacon letter was written. Dr. Bacon had given birth to all the epithets used against Tilton in this trial. He called him a knave and a dog, and instead of being this, he was acting with magnanimity and generosity towards Beecher, as the latter's letters will show. Could not Beecher have stated then what he did before the church investigating committee—"He (Tilton) was not a knave or a dog, and you, Dr. Bacon, are suffering from misrepresentation." If he had done so there would have been no Bacon letter and no disturbance, and there would have been no appeal to the public by Theodore Tilton. All these things arise from the cowardice of Henry Ward Beecher. Then followed called by Beecher, shortly after the publication of the Bacon letter. Most certainly Tilton was not responsible for that committee, and both Tilton and Moulton worked with assiduity to prevent any exposure of the scandal to the public by this committee. We come now to the Bowen letter, which Tilton testified was instigated by a story told him by Bowen, who urged him to make a demand that Beecher should leave the pulpit and Brooklyn, and Bowen promised to support his demand and carry the letter to Beecher. We put Bowen on the stand, with this paper standing on the record. Theodore Tilton defied all contradiction, and Bowen was not asked by the other side whether he was not the author of the demand, whether he did not promise to sustain this demand," and whether he did not promise friendship to Beecher.

The Investigating Committee,

An Omission.

Why was not Oliver Johnson asked about this? This omission on the part of the defense was the highest testimonial which could be given to Tilton's integrity. There was not a single word of discredit or denial on the part of this evidence given by Mr. Beecher, and it was part of the defense to put forth that Henry Ward Beecher was too pure even to be suspected of sin.

The counsel then passed to the consideration of

The Tripartite Covenant,

and said the part signed by Bowen was carefully and cautiously drawn. When Tilton contemplated any action he was guided by Beecher, Moulton and Mrs. Tilton to avoid any exposure likely to follow. The jury had seen how Moulton operated and worked, supported by Tilton, to keep this matter quiet and avoid all agitation or disturbance of this scandal, but Tilton was not aware of the investigating committee being appointed until told of it by his wife. Was it a noble, just measure to select this committee from members of the church? How arduous were the labors and deliberations of Beecher, Shearman and Tracy in selecting this committee in the homely but expressive phrase "packing a Court" and parading to the world the courage of Beecher in thus defying the charges and inviting an investigation, and gathering these men, whose opinions were already formed to acquit Beecher! Did not that committee know that it was a controversy between Tilton and Beecher for life or death. This was a

Star Chamber Investigation,

held with closed doors, and Tilton's wife enticed from home and taken before them, implicating her husband with charges which, if proved to be true, rendered him infamous, drawn away altogether from her home, and now relying and living on the charity dispensed by Plymouth Church. Where were the several witnesses, Mrs. Bradshaw, Mrs. Morse and others whom the committee knew possessed certain knowledge which would guide them in their deliberations, and why was no attempt made to get them before that Court and become possessed of their information? This committee served the purposes for which it was called, and rendered a verdict which was held up to the scorn of all the world. Could Tilton be blamed under the circumstances for standing up alone in this controversy and defending himself before this committee? His household disrupted, his wife a fugitive from her house, represented as a brute in his family relations—was this man to sit quiet, knowing the falseness of the accusations against him? What should Tilton do under the circumstances? Counsel did not know what the jury would do, but Mr. Tilton knew his wife had left her home forever, and Henry Ward Beecher required her in order that he might triumph. The wife must do something to remove the effects of the accusations against Beecher to her husband, hence her flight from her home, her appearance before the committee and her living with the Ovingtons. The jury could vindicate the character of Theodore Tilton, but that would not change his future much. Tilton would yet emerge from these shades. It was that they always did, and though his wife had abandoned her home and it was almost cheerless, he would yet redeem himself in the world.

The counsel said, addressing the Court, that Mr. Evarts had stated it was impossible for the jury to convict on the testimony of the accusing party, but they had the confessions of both parties, and Mr. Beach claimed the full capacity of Mr. Beecher's confession to warrant conviction from the jury.

The counsel quoted the English cases of Harris against Harris, and Mortimer against Mortimer, in support of his argument. The counsel cited the case of Burgess against Burgess in Taggart's Consistory, and argued that Mr. Evarts was in error when he represented the force of the evidence was restricted by rules of law governing criminal trials, and the counsel stated that under this view of the matter he would proceed to discuss the evidence.

Mr. Beach also quoted from cases of Billings against Billings, and Brammall against Brammall, to show when an attachment existed and opportunities occurred, there could be little doubt but that appetite had been indulged.

At this point a recess was taken.

After the recess Mr. Beach resumed his argument, and cited a decision of Lord Stowell in opposition to the position of Mr. Evarts that evidence of guilt in a case like this must exclude a reasonable doubt in order to justify a verdict against the accused party. He then argued that the Court should instruct the jury that the theory of law advanced by Mr. Evarts was unsound and erroneous.

The Charge

in this case was seduction and adultery, and the answer to it was blackmail and conspiracy. At the first step that the jury took to investigate these charges they were confronted by the figure of Elizabeth R. Tilton. Could they believe that Mrs. Tilton loves Beecher, as Beecher had said he believed she did, and who with scandalous impudence appeared in this Court to give him her support when the final struggle between her lover and husband came? Could they believe that she was the central figure in a conspiracy against Beecher? Could they believe that this woman, a wife and a mother, at the mere bidding of her husband, had manufactured a false charge against her pastor, which involved her own infamy? This was one of those which the mind at once rejected. Then, however low any man might think Mr. Tilton's character to be, could any man believe his degradation to be so great that he would deliberately enter into a conspiracy which was founded upon the pretended infamy of his wife? Then what could be the object of such a conspiracy? Money? He wanted none. He was living in comparative luxury upon the products of his intellectual labor at the time when he obtained his wife's confession in July, 1870. Was it fame? He wanted none. He had obtained a high literary reputation throughout the country, and held an enviable rank as an editor, author and orator. If this charge was true, not only had Tilton and Moulton perjured themselves in this case, but Mrs. Moulton and Mrs. Bradshaw had done the like for the sake of Theodore Tilton, and Mrs. Tilton had ruined her good name for the same purpose. If this was a conspiracy to extort money, why was Beecher's offer not accepted when he volunteered to aid in paying off the mortgage upon Tilton's house, as testified by Beecher himself? But what had struck his mind most forcibly as utterly

Incredible Propositions

Destroying This Idea of Blackmailing

was Beecher's own reluctant admission, under cross-examination, that he believed Tilton was sincere in his accusation on the night of December 30, 1870. How could this be reconciled with any idea of a conspiracy which was organized in that month? When Mr. Beecher made that admission he stamped the whole theory of conspiracy and blackmail as an absurdity. Imagine, gentlemen, these two men engaging in a conspiracy to extort money from Beecher, and believe him (Beecher) to be innocent. How did the jury think he would treat these charges, knowing him as they did? Would he have cowed before them or yielded to them? Oh, no! said the speaker, he would have turned on the first breath of accusation and tramped the accuser in the dust in his righteous indignation. It was perfectly amazing Mr. Beecher should go

Harboring and Fondling the Blackmailers, and day after day uttering the noblest tributes to their characters. The counsel alluded to endeavors made by Shearman and Tracy to imbue Mr. Beecher with the idea that these men were blackmailers, and Beecher's struggles against that thought.

The counsel then reverted to the charge against the defendant, and said that if his evidence was to be believed—and he never had a stain on his garments or his conscience—then the case was clear; but if there was not a clear denial of these charges down on the record, then Mr. Beecher was a guilty man.

The Question

was whether Henry Ward Beecher could be allowed to come on the stand and overturn all this mass of testimony against him by his own unsupported word. He read to the jury the letter of retraction, and said that from the terms used it was evident that in the letter of confession much stronger terms were used. The body of the paper says: "I gave a paper inculpating my friend, Henry Ward Beeecher," and it was preposterous from this to believe that the letter of confession only charged improper solicitions. When had this lady subjected herself to the domination of her husband or subject to his will in opposition to the wishes of Beecher? Tell me that, if you can, said counsel. Why, this woman had dedicated her soul to Henry Ward Beecher. Imagine Mr. Beecher telling this woman of this letter of confession being his death blow, and talking about the council of ministers in 1870, before there was a breath about it. Was this statement to her husband all the imagination of Tilton? Did he invent it, or how did he know of these arguments of Beecher's or how did he know that Beecher, in the prostration of the moment, had used the same words he had used at Moulton's about his being a ruined man, and yet the jury were asked to believe that this paper was written by this lady, acting under the control and at the dictation of her husband.

The Court here adjourned.

THE MINERS' WAR.

The Strike Ended in the Wyoming Region—Disagreement at the Meetings of Workmen—The Clearfield Strikers Sentenced—A Would-be Murderer Arrested—Work Resumed in the Schuylkill Region.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 15.—The miners who have been working at Paine's shaft were met by a large gang this morning and ordered to stay out. A posse was raised and they opened a way through the mob, and those who wished entered the shaft. There was great excitement.

LATER.—The long strike is ended. The miners of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Company made an unconditional surrender, through their delegates, last night, at a meeting with Mr. Parish. A dozen or more meetings were held yesterday, at different places. At Athby, a delegation of seventy German miners went to the meeting for the purpose of voting for resumption. Their object became known to the leaders and they were excluded from the meeting. They then held a meeting of their own and decided to be governed no longer by the Association. At another meeting the Irish and Welsh disagreed, and the former withdrew. At other meetings there was also a lack of harmony, and during the course of the day there was a general disagreement, as to their future action. The mass of miners were in favor of going to work, but the leaders fought hard against it. The sentiment was too strong for them longer to control and part yielded. In the evening a region meeting was held, and the delegates then went to Mr. Parish's office, when a long and harmonious conference took place, which ended in an agreement to go to work upon the company's terms. No concessions whatever were made by the company. The men stated they had made a mistake in holding out so long or in making a strike, and were now in want of the necessaries of life and eager to have work immediately. This company employs about eleven thousand men, and all of their works will be started as soon as possible. The miners of individual operators will follow the men of this company, and there will be a general resumption in the Wyoming region.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 15.—John McCue was arrested to-day as the person who put two kegs of powder and a lighted fuse into Curry's house in Kingston on Saturday night. The proof was strong against him, and he was held in ten thousand dollars bail.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., June 15.—Telegrams received from the northern section of the Schuylkill state that a number of collieries resumed work this morning, among them several of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Co.'s mines. Several mines in the vicinity of Shenandoah are working full force, and it was necessary to turn a number of men away who had applied for work.

CLEARFIELD, Pa., June 15.—The thirty-two striking miners who were found guilty last evening of conspiracy and riot were called for sentence this afternoon. Judge Orvia divided the criminals into three classes, and pronounced sentence as follows: The first class consisted of John H. Joyce, President of the Miners' Union of this region; John J. Maloney, Secretary; Ralph Parks, Geo. McGowan, Thos. Burchdale and Mathias Mayor, who were sentenced to pay the costs of the prosecution, $25 fine, and undergo imprisonment for one year. The second class consisted of thirteen others, who were sentenced to pay the costs of the prosecution, a fine of $25 each, and imprisonment for sixty days. There were thirteen of the third class, on whom sentence was suspended, it being considered that they acted under the control of the leaders. Xingo Parks, Secretary of the National Union, was present. After the sentence was pronounced he seemed terribly distressed, and shed tears.

CHICAGO.

The Question of Taxing Tangible Property of Corporations on the Valuations Returned by Themselves.

CHICAGO, June 15.—A lengthy argument was made to-day by Judges Blodgett and Drummond, of the United States Court, on the question of taxing tangible property of corporations on the valuations returned by themselves. Col. Robert Ingersoll opened the argument, and contended that the whole tax is illegal, because the State, in assessing taxes, had levied a tax which would produce one hundred and fifty-three thousand dollars more than could be legally raised, that the action of the Legislature in taxing as they had done capital, stock and property of corporations was a blow at all aggregated capital, and that the action of the State Board of Equalization was unjust and illegal. Attorney General Edsall argued in support of the measure taken by the State Board of Equalization. After further argument the Court gave leave to file some affidavits on the subject, and announced that it would take the matter under advisement for the present.

The Suicide Caused by Sheridan's Marriage.

The following is from the New York Tribune: "Deputy Coroner Lee made a post mortem examination of the body of Captain William H. Brown, of the Fifth United States Cavalry, who committed suicide on Friday. At the time Captain Brown was dying he spoke of a ring that he had swallowed. This ring was found. It was a plain gold, whith raised, chased edges. On the inside of the ring was engraved 'Be satisfied.' The story of the ring was not ascertained, but it is believed that the ring had been given to Captain Brown by the daughter of any army officer. It is said that he had been much attached to the young lady, and it is believed that her recent marriage had upset his mind, and had been one of the predisposing causes of his suicide. The inquest upon the remains is to be held on Wednesday dext." On the same subject the New York Star says: "Captain William H. Brown committed suicide on Friday by cutting his throat, and he did it for love. If rumors be true, he was engaged to the young lady in New Orleans who has since become the wife of Phil. Sheridan. She sent Brown a ring with 'Be satisfied' upon it. Brown swallowed the ring, but was not satisfied. He then cut his throat. Poor fellow!"

GREAT BRITAIN.

Business Failures.

LONDON, June 15.—It is reported that circulars will be issued to-morrow announcing the failure of two firms whose principal connections are with the East. The liabilities of one of them are said to amount to fifteen million dollars.

LONDON, June 15.—The morning papers announce the failure of Alexander Collie & Co., commission merchants of London and Manchester, and Shand & Co., East India merchants of London. The amount of liabilities is not stated.

The American Riflemen.

DUBLIN, June 15.—The American riflemen, accompanied by Major Leech and Alderman Manning, of Dublin, and a large number of friends, left Cork on a special train for this city. They were greeted with cheers at various stations on the route. The Lord Mayor and members of the corporation of the city of Dublin received them at the depot here, and conducted them to carriages. A procession was then formed, with a band at its head, and escorted the guests through Sackville, Dawson and other principal streets to the Shelbourne Hotel. The reception given the team by the populace was most enthusiastic. Immense crowds at the depot and along the entire route of the procession cheered as long as the Americans were in sight. The railway station and streets were decorated, and American and Irish flags were everywhere displayed. The enthusiasm culminated at the hotel, where each member of the team was cheered as he alighted from his carriage. The people pressed forward to shake hands with them, and shouts of "Welcome! welcome!" were heard on every side. Thousands of spectators remained in front of the hotel until a late hour of the night. During the evening a procession, with bands of music and carrying flags and banners, marched to the place and serenaded the Americans. At the same time a banquet was in progress in the hotel. Major Leech presided, and made a speech, warmly welcoming the riflemen and their friends to Ireland. Col. Gildersleeve responded for the visitors with heartfelt thanks. He declared that their reception was far beyond anything they had anticipated.

Assurances of Peace.

LONDON June 16—6 A. M.—A dispatch from Berlin to the Daily Telegraph reports that Prince Bismarck, before leaving for the country, received the foreign representatives, and gave each assurances of the peaceful disposition of Germany.

AUSTRIA.

Rumored Alliance.

VIENNA, June 15.—A sensation has been created here by the publication in the St. Petersburg Golos of an article advocating an alliance between Russia and England, because, between the three, the Emperor has lost the power of guaranteeing peace, since one member thereof has been suspected of warlike designs.

Wiesinger Acquitted.

VIENNA, June 15.—The Provincial Court acquitted Wiesinger of the charge of attempting to defraud Father General Becx. In the course of the trail Wiesinger declared that he was an adherent of Prince Bismarck and an enemy of the Ultramontanes. His sole intention was to allure the Jesiuts to acquesce in an offer to assassinate Bismarck, and thereby give the latter reason for more energetic proceedings against the Catholics. He hoped that Bismarck or Schweinitz, the German embassador, would reward him for his zeal.

GERMANY.

Count von Arnim's Case Re-opened.

BERLIN, June 15.—The case of Count von Arnim was re-opened to-day.

The Banquet to Admiral Worden.

BERLIN, June 15.—Among the distinguished guests at the banquet to Admiral Worden last night were Gen. von Stosch, Chief of Admiralty, and Councilor von Phillipsborn, Director of the Foreign Office. Admiral Worden and the officers of the fleet accompanying him to Berlin dined with Gen. von Stosch to-night.

The Public Safety Bill.

ROME, June 15.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day the debate on the public safety bill was continued. An order of the day was proposed, which was agreed to by the Government and passed by a majority of seventeen.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 15, 1875.

The Cotton Crop.

The Department of Agriculture, in its cotton report for Jude, states that the threatened reduction in area has not taken place, nor has the reduced area of last year been much enlarged. The comparison with last year is as follows: North Carolina, 102; South Carolina, 106; Georgia, 96; Florida, 99; Alabama, 104; Mississippi, 102; Louisiana, 101; Texas, 108; Arkansas, 101; Tennessee, 92. The report of the condition is the most favorable in the past five seasons, with the exception of that of 1872.

The Black Hills Commission.

The commission to treat with the Sioux Indians has been increased to eight members, as it was not known who would accept and as invitations were extended to more than were actually needed. Eight finally accepted. The following are the names: Wm. B. Allison, of Iowa; Bishop E. R. Ames, Md.; F. W. Palmer, Ills.; Brig. Gen. Alfred H. Terry, U. S. A.; Hon. Abram Comingo, Mo.; Rev. S. D. Hinman, Dakota; G. P. Beauvois, Mo.; J. R. O'Brine, N. Y. Joe W. Dwyer was appointed Secretary. The salary to each will be eight dollars a day, with an allowance for necessary expenses.

The Fraudulent Mail Bids.

In the Criminal Court to-day was commenced the trial of Jerome B. Hind, late United States Marshal for Alabama, charged with complicity in certain fraudulent mail bids in connection with Clerk Kittles.

ALBANY.

The Case of "Boss" Tweed—The Judgment of the Supreme Court Reversed—The Tammany Thief Again to be Turned Loose.

ALBANY, June 15.—The Court of Appeals has unanimously reversed the judgment of the Supreme Court in the case of Wm. M. Tweed, and has ordered his discharge. The Judges held that the writ of habeas corpus has always been construed in favor of, and not against the liberty of the subject and citizen, and the reading must be the same whether the benefit of it is invoked by the purest and best citizen of the State or the greatest sinner and the one most worthy of condign punishment. The law is no respecter of persons, and suffers no man, be he guilty or innocent, to be deprived of his liberty except by due process of law, and the writ of habeas corpus is as available even to the guilty as he whom the popular voice would condemn as it has proved against commitments by a King in council. On cumulative sentences the Judges state: "No warrant can be found for cumulative punishment upon conviction of several offences charged in a single indictment, the aggregate punishment exceeding that prescribed by law for the grade of offences charged. The rule, as claimed by implication, calls for a single judgment for all the offences charged in the indictment and of which the accused is convicted. It requires that offences joined shall be of the same grade and subject to the same punishment, that is, not only punishment of the same kind, but the same in degree."

POLITICAL.

Maine Republican State Convention.

PORTLAND, ME., June 15.—The Republican State Convention met this morning, W. W. Thomas, Jr., presiding. After a committee on permanent organization was appointed, President Thomas and Eugene Hale made addresses, and the Convention took a recess.

On the reassembling of the Convention, the committees reported, and a series of resolutions was adopted, strong in party tone. The salient points are as follows: That the Union of States must be maintained at all hazards; that the Government is that of a nation, not of a confederacy; that local self-government in matters purely local must be adhered to; that there can be no legitimate conflict between the powers of the nation and of any State; that a sound currency, based on coin and redeemable in coin, is essential to the prosperity of the people, and that the most kindly and fraternal relations should be cultivated between all sections of the country.

Upon the first ballot General Selden Connor was nominated for Governor, receiving 497 out of 502 votes.

THE BORDER WAR.

The Recent Skirmish with Mexican Cattle Thieves.

Gen. Cortina Preparing for Revenge.

A Reign of Terror on the Texas Frontier.

GALVESTON, June 15.—The News Brownsville special says one raider escaped. He was wounded, feigned death, crawled into the high grass, and was not found. He is in Matamoras, and had a ball extracted late yesterday. The raiders' casualties of the fight sum up twelve killed and one wounded. They lost, besides, eleven horses, saddles, all their arms, repeating rifles and pistols. Private S. B. Smith was buried yesterday. There was a large funeral. A procession of citizens and soldiers turned out. Col. Merriam, of the regular army, and Col. Ford, were marshals. He received a military funeral and was honored by citizens and soldiers. Captain McNeely could not go after the raiders under Ricardo Flores, because his horses were broken down.

General Cortina is incensed at the killing of his cattle thieves. Mexican papers say the raiders were assassinated while asleep. Captain McNeely says if they were asleep he don't want to find any of them awake. Cortina swears he will have revenge. Cortina is arming, and has been for more than a week. He received a peremptory order to report at Mexico, and in the event of disobedience the order is to arrest him.

General Fuero left Montery this morning on a march to Matamoras. He has three thousand men. It is understood that he comes to attend to Cortina. It is not known what the brigand chief will do. He is preparing for devilment. He will fight General Fuero if he thinks he can whip him. He may cross to this side and place himself at the head of Mexican squatters, desolate the country, and cross to the Mexican side again and get pardoned by the supreme Government. The troops are on the alert and the citizens at Brownsville are adopting defensive measures. No one knows what a day or an hour may bring forth. There is no chance for a division of opinion. Everything precludes a doubt as to the accountability of the Mexican authorities, the enormity of the outrages, and the dangers threatening the frontier. Some of the Mexican officials are watching Cortina's movements with anxiety. Should he succeed, more than one of them will be marched to the Laguna and shot. They are honestly trying to put him down, not for what he has done to Americans, but for what he may do to them.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, June 15, 1875.

Additional Indictments Against Silk Smugglers.

In the United States Circuit Court, yesterday, the Grand Jury presented several new indictments charging complicity in silk smuggling frauds, but the United States District Attorney declined to make public the names of the indicted persons until they have been arrested.

"Boss" Tweed.

The news that the Court of Appeals had finally decided in favor of Tweed, and ordered his release from the penitentiary, circulated to-day through the city with great rapidity, and for the time took precedence of the Beecher trial. Sheriff Conner has taken every precaution to secure the arrest of Tweed immediately upon his discharge. Deputy Sheriff Magonigle, furnished with an order of arrest in civil suits, has been stationed on Blackwell's Island for several days, and will arrest the ex-Tammany chief before he has long enjoyed his new-found liberty. Unless he is provided with securities to the amount of three million dollars, he will be taken to Ludlow street, and even if he could supply the amount of bail, it is understood he would again be taken into custody on another suit, in which an equal amount of security would be demanded. The order of arrest in civil suits is signed by Judge Davis, who was Presiding Judge at Tweed's trial.

A Burglar Captured.

The Brooklyn police this morning arrested Wm. H. Mooney, who committed a burglary on Cumberland street last night. As his appearance corresponded with the description given of the Tompkins avenue burglar, he was to-day taken to the house of Mr. Shute, and fully identified by Mrs. Shute as the man with whom her husband had a bloody encounter last Tuesday morning.

PHILADELPHIA.

Annual Meeting of the National Board of Trade.

PHILADELPHIA, June 15.—The seventh annual meeting of the National Board of Trade commenced here to-day at the rooms of the Philadelphia Board of Trade. The President of the Board of Trade of this city delivered the address of welcome, which was responded to by Hon. Wm. E. Smith, of Milwaukee. The seventh annual report of the Executive Council was read.

Frank Fraley, of Philadelphia, was re-elected President, and in a few suitable remarks thanked the board for the honor conferred. The election of fourteen Vice Presidents, who, with the President, from the Executive Council of the Board, was then proceeded with.

The following gentlemen were elected Vice Presidents: Samuel P. Thompson, of Baltimore; B. F. Nourse, Boston; George M. Howe, Chicago; S. F. Covington, Cincinnati; G. D. Hayes, Detroit; W. E. Smith, Milwaukee; Wm. Grosvenor, St. Louis; George Opdyke, New York; Franklin Edson, New York; C. J. Hoffman, Philadelphia; T. C. Horsey, Portland; Wm. Grosvenor, Providence; Thomas H. Price, Mobile, and G. N. Allen, Philadelphia.

The reports of committees being in order, the Committee on Transportation presented their report, action on the same being deferred for the present. It treats of the effect upon the cost of transportation of combinations between railway companies of leased roads, of the conduct of fast freight lines, of the tariff upon iron, of watering stock, &c.

A communication was read from the Associated Chamber of Commerce of Great Britain. The Committee on Credentials reported in favor of the admission of the New York Cheap Transportation Co. and the Scranton Board of Trade. Both were admitted. A resolution of the Baltimore meeting, denouncing the capitation tax collected from immigrants as unjust and odious, was discussed and then laid on the table. The Board then adjourned until to-morrow. This evening the Executive Council held a private session.

United States District Court.

(Before Judge McCandless.)

John Sheedy bankrupt, Allegheny City. The creditors having chosen E. E. Galbraith, of Pittsburgh assignee, the same was confirmed.

Moses Wachtel bankrupt, Venango county. The Register's report recommending the payment to the assignee solicitors fees for his services, was approved.

Harbaugh, Matthias & Owen, bankrupts, Pittsburgh. An order was made for the sale of certain personal property.

Geo. Nickel, bankrupt, Fayette county. The assignee was directed to sell certain real estate discharged of liens.

Wm. H. Cluley, bankrupt, Pittsburgh. After argument, the exceptions to the Register's report, on petition of the assignees, relative to the fund arising from the sale of certain real estate on a mortgage, by the Sheriff of Allegheny county, were sustained.

Criminal Court.

(Before Judge Stowe.)

Jacob C. Brown was convicted of fornication. He is the colored sexton of the Welsh Baptist Church on Ross street, who was charged with outraging the two girls O'Brien and Jones, whom he engaged to help him clean the church building.

CONNELLSVILLE RAILROAD.

Purchase of Baltimore City's Interest by the Baltimore and Ohio Company.

A general meeting of the stockholders of the Baltimore and Ohio Railway company, called by the Directors, was held on Monday in Baltimore, for the purpose of considering the question of the purchase by the Baltimore and Ohio Company, from the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, of all the interest in, or claims against the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railway Company, or the property of said Company, and also to consider the agreement and mortgage required to be executed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railway Company to the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, by the ordinance of the Mayor and City Councils of Baltimore authorizing the sale aforesaid.

Mr. J. Carroll Walsh, a Director on the part of the State of Maryland, offered the following resolution, which was seconded by Mr. R. T. Banks, a Director on the part of the city of Baltimore:

Resolved, That the stockholders of the Baltimore and Ohio Railway Company do hereby assent to the agreement and mortgage required to be executed on the part of the Baltimore and Ohio Railway Company by the ordinance authorizing the sale to the said Company of the interest of the said Mayor and City Councils of Baltimore in and of its claim against the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railway Company, or against the property thereof, and do hereby direct the President of the said Company, or its President pro tempore, to execute and deliver the said agreement and mortgage.

One hundred and twenty-five thousand seven hundred and forty-seven shares were cast in favor of the adoption of the resolution, and no vote against it. The resolution was therefore adopted by a vote exceeding two-thirds of the entire capital stock.

Summer Resorts.

For a long time Pittsburghers have complained that there was no summer resort where a man could enjoy the beauties of nature, and escape the heat of the city, unless he left and hied away to some watering place, and thereby neglected his business, which all men could not do. This has been remedied by one of our enterprising citizens, Mr. W. S. Jackson, proprietor of the lovely place called "Idlewood." Mr. Jackson intends over-seeing it himself, which is a guarantee that everything will be first class. Near to the city, and at the same time in the country, in the true sense of the word, we know of no more desirable place to take up a summer abode. We have no doubt he will be crowded, as no such opportunity has been offered before.

Furnishing Goods.

The Boston Clothing House, 95 Smithfield street, has a splendid stock of gentlemen's furnishing goods, underwear, &c., which is offered at very low prices. The line of fine dress shirts cannot be surpassed, and they are offered cheaper than elsewhere in the city. Gentlemen should call and examine these goods.

Pretty Feet.

Ladies who desire neat fitting boots and shoes, should by all means examine the superb assortment of shoes and gaiters now in store at the rooms of R. Taggart, No. 129 Federal street, Allegheny. To say that you can get shoes as neatly fitting as a glove, is no misrepresentation, and as for cheapness, everybody knows that no house in either city can sell as low as Taggart.

Summer Boarding.

A few first class boarders can be accommodated near railroad on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne R. R., in a private family, near the city. Inquire of WM. H. BRILL, Federal street, Allegheny city, Pa.

BREVITIES.

····The Allegheny Park Commission met last evening but transacted nothing but routine business.

····The Allegheny Health Committee will meet this evening for the purpose of investigating certain charges preferred against the Health Officer.

····There will be a musical and literary entertainment on Thursday and Friday evenings of this week at the Arch street M. E. church, Allegheny.

····Hamilton Dawson and Alex. Dickson were committed by Alderman Logan yesterday, to answer a charge of the larceny of some chickens, next Saturday.

····Some time during Monday night burglars broke into a shoe store on Lacock street, Allegheny, and stole a lot of boots and shoes. There is no clue to the parties.

····George Black, the pickpocket arrested on Troy Hill on Monday afternoon, was committed to the Work House for ninety days, by Mayor Phillips, yesterday morning.

····Tom Dally, the man who struck officer Emanuel with a bottle on Monday evening, was sent to the Work House for 90 days by Mayor Phillips yesterday morning.

····The Church Home Festival, our readers should remember, will be given on Thursday afternoon, from the hours of 3 to 10 o'clock, at the Church Home, corner of Penn avenue and Fortieth street.

····A German woman, who resides at Wood's run, was visiting some friends in Mt. Washington a day or two ago, and in walking on the plank walk near the incline plane, fell, breaking one of her legs. We were unable to learn her name.

····Two men named Hamilton Young and Thomas Kelly respectively, were seriously injured at the Eureka coal works of J. W. Grubbs & Co., near Greenfield, Washington county, last Saturday, by the falling of a lot of dirt in the mine. Young's condition is reported as rather critical.

····Wm. Robinson and Jno. Breen, who were arrested on Monday as suspicious characters, and who had a lot of supposed stolen tinner's material in their possession, were committed to jail yesterday on an information made by R. W. Cartwright, of Stevenson & Cartwright, who charges them with the larceny of shears, rivet sets and soldering metal from their establishment.

····A pacing match took place at the Bellevue race course on Monday evening, out the Perrysville road, between "Honest Sarah," owned by Samuel Lowenstein, and "Rattling Jim," owned by Lewis Rothchilds, which was won by the former in two minutes and fifty-four and three-fourth seconds. The stakes were $100 to $50, the former amount being wagered on "Rattling Jim." A large crowd was present to witness the trial of speed.

····Persons desiring to attend the reunion of the Twenty-eighth, and one Hundred and Forty-seventh Regiments, Pennsylvania Volunteers, and Knap's Battery, to be held at Gettysburg, on the 3d of July, are requested to leave their names with J. H. Hoffer, at the stamp window of the Pittsburgh postoffice. The fare for the round trip will be ten dollars. To secure this low rate names must be reported to Mr. Hoffer not later than Saturday, the 19th.

····We noted at the time, the accident which befell the juvenile daughter of Mr. Wm. M. Claney last Sunday. She fell against the store and injured her spine. At first no serious apprehensions were entertained, but she became sick, and after lying until Monday night, expired. The victim, Lulu Birmingham Claney, though but four years of age, was a bright and interesting child, and her sad death has caused sadness among all who knew the family. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of many friends in their great sorrow.

MILITARY AND THE CENTENNIAL.

Interesting Correspondence Between a Maine Militia Captain and Governor Hartranft.

We are indebted to Major Norris, private Secretary to his Excellency, Governor Hartranft, for a copy of the annexed correspondence, which is of interest to military men throughout the United States, as tending to foreshadow the magnitude of the military display which will form so conspicious a feature of the great Centennial:

HD. QRS. PORTLAND MECHANICS BLUES,
CO. B, 1ST REGIMENT MAINE VOLUNTEER MILITIA.
PORTLAND, Maine, June 9, 1875

To His Excellency the Governor of Pennsylvania:

GOVERNOR—I hereby tender to you my command to be present at Philadelphia on the 4th of July, 1876, as a representative of the militia of Maine.

This organization was organized in 1807, and took an active part in the war of 1812, also in the late war.

I have the honor to be,
Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
(Signed.) CHAS. J. PENNELL,
Captain commanding.

June 14, 1875.

Captain Chas. J. Pennell, Commanding Portland Mechanic Blues, Portland, Maine:

DEAR SIR:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 9th instant, wherein you tender your command to be present at Philadelphia on the 4th of July, 1876, as a representative of the State of Maine, and in reply, take pleasure in assuring you that a cordial and soldierly welcome will be extended to your command by the troops of Pennsylvania at the Centennial.

The arrangements for the encampment and entertainment of the visiting military next year have not been perfected, but are in contemplation, and we are informed will be commensurate with the dignity of the occasion, and made with a view to the comfortable provision of the great body of citizen soldiery that are expected to be present.

The Centennial Managers are anxious to see every State of the Union largely represented, as no feature of the great exhibition will be more striking and illustrative of the spirit of our institutions than a review, in the presence of the vast concourse of foreigners, of an army fresh from the ranks of the people with all the discipline and paraphernalia of regular troops, and thousands of whom have seen arduous and gallant service on the one side or the other during the late war. And may we not indulge in the hope that the fraternization of the military at our Centennial celebration will in a great measure contribute to the harmony between all the sections, which is so essential to the stability and prosperity of the country.

Renewing my assurance that your own and all other visiting organizations will receive a hearty and generous welcome in Philadelphia at the Centennial, in 1876, I remain,

Very respectfully yours, &c.,
J. F. HARTRANFT.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 116⅜.

A POLICY of care, if not of rigid economy, is evidently resolved on by Secretary Bristow, with reference to new Custom House buildings. That at Chicago has been condemned by the Commission appointed to investigate, and it will be pulled down, and other plans and material substituted.

THE gratifying statement is received that the miners' strike is at last ended. The strikers are reported to have unconditionally surrendered, and work is to be resumed throughout the whole Wyoming valley. It has been a long and bitter contest, and we are gratified, as much on the miners' as the operators' account, that it is ended.

THE candidates who were yesterday nominated by the Republican Conventions are sufficiently well known to the public not to require an introduction at our hands. We regard the ticket, so far as made, as one of rare merit, and fully endorse and commend it. We exceedingly regret the Sheriffalty contest,—the most disgraceful affair that has happened to the party in this county these many years. The outcome of that, however, need not affect the balance of the ticket.

WE would like to make a suggestion in reference to the Sheriffalty Convention, to be held next week. Let Library Hall or the Opera House be secured, and the parquette be reserved for delegates alone. Each delegate could then have a comfortable seat, and, in voting, could rise in full view of the Convention, and afterward take his seat. Everything would thus be done open and above board, and we believe the confusion incidental to a promiscuous assemblage would be avoided.

WILLIAM M. TWEED is be to discharged from confinement under a decision by the Court of Appeals of New York, reversing the decision of the Supreme Court. This will free that gentleman from criminal prosecution, but leave him liable to civil actions, on account of the revelations of Ingersoll. Until we know the exact relation of the Court of Appeals to the Democratic party, it will be difficult to estimate the exact bearing of this decision, considered in a partisan light. He will now become a power in the politics of New York once more.

AS TIME passes, the attention of emigrants and capitalists is being more and more attracted toward the "Lone Star" State, as the most promising we have. The taxable wealth of Texas is said to have increased thirty-three per cent. in the last four years. The population has increased in more than that proportion. The herds of cattle and horses, and flocks of sheep; the singular union of tropical and temperate vegetation; the wealth of the forests; the mines of salt, lately joined by others of silver, whose ores are now coming East for assay; the low price of admirable land, and light taxation have allured settlers from every part of the country. The future of the State brightens daily, and is drawn nearer to the attention of Eastern States by the promise of speedy railway connections. Once these are provided, the growth of that State in all forms of wealth, will be amazing and constant.

THE report that Russia withdraws from the triumvirate of Emperors is very important, if true. No reason is given for the fact announced, and therefore we incline to doubt its correctness. The Czar recently visited Berlin, and held long conferences with the Emperor William and Bismarck, and was understood to be in full accord with them. If he has withdrawn from this relationship, which included also the Emperor of Austria, it is indicative of complications in European politics. Germany undoubtedly has designs on France, which it will require a strong hand to prevent from being carried into effect. The withdrawal of Russia from an agreement which had been so recently formed indicated that the Czar is unable to control the purposes of Germany, and hence withdraws from a relationship that involves responsibility for what is likely to be done. The action thus taken cannot fail to exert a disturbing influence on European politics, and may possibly ultimate in war. The fears that have been entertained, relative to the peace of Europe, seem not to have been unfounded; yet we trust that the action of Russia may be less suggestive than we have indicated.

THE assurances which are now semi-officially given that the great railroad war is practically ended, will afford much satisfaction to the public at large, particularly as it is attended with assurances that excessive freight rates are not to be restored, but proper consideration given to the business condition of the country, and therefore, very moderate rates are to be given. The long and bitter warfare that has been in progress has served to depreciate the market value of the stock of the several roads, and to occasion them absolute loss, by the cutting down of returns from freight traffic. Nor have the extreme low rates given sensibly benefited commerce. There is a point below which rates really do not contribute to the development of commercial activity. This, for example, is felt in our oil trade. The rate of oil, below a certain standard, has not contributed to increased consumption, and thus there was no advantage, in the home trade, in having prices below a certain point. Thus with other articles of trade. It is now proposed by the railroads to reach as nearly a fair rate as can be agreed upon, and to maintain it without further trouble.

THE wisdom of the foreign policy of our Government, as regards the Oriental nations, as compared with that of England or France, is seen in the extent to which American influence has become potential in Japan. Our policy is that of peaceful co-operation, simply, with no plans of conquest, or of ultimate aggrandizement. The result is, that while other powers maintain their trade and influence by force, ours is invited and welcomed. In the case of Japan where this influence is most clearly marked, we can build railroads and telegraphs to any extent. We can establish missions and build up colleges and schools. The difference between American policy in Japan and that which rendered Christianity odious under the Dutch is, that ours aims at no compulsion whatever. Moral suasion and the force of example and instruction are all that we rely upon. To such a movement as this our own Government ought to lend all possible aid; for if we maintain the footing we have gained there and continue to extend our influence, we shall have done more to realize our dreams of Oriental commerce than we could achieve by conquest. Japan may be Americanized as Hawaii has been without becoming an American possession. All the forms of American civilization are being steadily introduced there, and in a few years there will be more Americans in Japan than there are English in all British India, for it is amazing to read, after a whole century of British dominion in India, that there are only seventy thousand of the British race there, all told! Yet in all our operations we should remember that America aids to develop, but does not seek conquest.

THE CONVENTIONS YESTERDAY.

The first move toward entering upon an active campaign was inaugurated yesterday, by the holding of the several Conventions of the Republican party. The system of separate Conventions, each containing over two hundred delegates, served to occasion a gathering of nearly one thousand persons, armed with credentials, in and around the Court House. There were the usual interviews, and attempts to influence voters, preliminary to the organization of the Conventions, but at the proper hour these were promptly called to order. Convention No. 3 was easily disposed of—William H. McCleary being renominated Clerk of the Courts by acclamation, and James W. Bell, of Robinson township, being selected for Director of the Poor. We can imagine no reason for the slightest objection to either of these candidates,—Mr. McCleary being popular in the country as well as the city, and Mr. Bell being a resident of Robinson township, and thus answering to the demand for a candidate outside the city.

Convention No. 2, which was charged with the nomination of Recorder and Register, did its work at a single sitting. The name of Mr. Varner, which had been in contest, was withdrawn before a ballot was ordered, and Ralph Richardson was nominated by acclamation. In a neat speech he returned thanks for the honor and promised increased efficiency in his next term, if elected. Four candidates were presented for nomination for Register and Clerk of Orphans' Court,—Messrs. Gray, Case, Allen and Brown. The result of the first ballot showed Gray to have the nomination in his grasp, but a difference of count among the Secretaries, and an idea, on the part of several delegates, that a combination might be made to defeat him, led to a call for a second ballot, which was followed by confusion and some excitement. The vote as finally announced showed Mr. Gray to be nominated; but as a second ballot was called for, his friends desiring to show that they were entirely fair, agreed to it. While the second ballot was in progress, Colonel Allen authorized the withdrawal of his name, which was followed by similar action on the part of Mr. Brown, and the nomination was then made by acclamation, and with great good feeling. Mr. Case withdrew before the second ballot began, and his delegates generally voted for Gray. Colonel Allen, in a manly speech, announced his belief that the nomination was honestly made, and his purpose to work for the election of Mr. Gray; and Mr. Brown concurred in the same view. Thus the work of this Convention was satisfactory.

Convention No. 4 was charged with the nomination of candidates for Commissioners and Controller. As was generally expected, Controller Warner, whose record during his past term is faultless in every particular, was renominated without the slightest trouble. He is an official who commands the widest respect, and is one of the most correct and popular men in Allegheny City. Messrs. Beckert and McClelland were also nominated. The selection of these gentlemen meets two conditions that have been anxiously considered, and ought thus to be perfectly satisfactory. The country wished two new candidates for Commissioner, and secured one,—McClelland,—and he resides in the country. Mr. Beckert has served one term in the office, and has the advantage of representing the German element, and, also, is a wounded soldier. We strongly advise our friends in the country that the ticket is worthy their cordial support. In McClelland they have a representative, and in Beckert the German population, which is eminently deserving of consideration, is recognized. Thus this is a proper and acceptable arrangement.

The chief bone of contention, however, was Convention No. 1, which had in charge the Sheriffalty. As our readers are aware, there were four candidates distinctly before this Convention, with a fifth in abeyance. These were Messrs. Lindsay, Fife, Diehl and Culey. Judge Parke had several delegates, but was not openly brought forward. On this Convention, the politicians made their full display of art and strength. Three of the candidates came in with about an even number of delegates. The primary contests had been quite bitter, and the result was a decided stiffness as to combinations and trades.

In the early portion of the session of the Convention, two facts were very apparent,—that each candidate had his delegates well in hand, and that a spirit of uncompromising bitterness existed between the several factions. Owing to the confusion that developed, or to the plans of the party managers, an adjournment was had to the old City Hall; but here the confusion became worse confounded. The Diehl delegates, not wishing to show their strength, went over to the Fife delegates and elected a Fife Chairman. The Committee on Contested Seats fell to Diehl, as Fife was not contesting any seats. This committee, in its report, threw out the Lindsay delegates to such an extent, that the report was the occasion of fresh uproar, the Lindsay men moving that the report be laid on the table. This, amid much confusion, was thought to be carried, but the chair decided otherwise, and an attempt was made to proceed to a ballot. This the Lindsay men would not submit to; and when about thirty votes were cast, the confusion became so great that the Chairman, on his own responsibility, declared the Convention adjourned for one week.

The action thus taken brings the Republican party of Allegheny county face to face with a very important question,—that of the possibility of this Convention, as now constituted, to nominate a candidate for Sheriff who can be elected. Undoubtedly the animus of this fight centred in the idea that those who have heretofore manipulated matters were having too large a share, and using improper and violent measures in controling the result. Could the idea have obtained that each candidate should have the control of his delegates, and form such combinations as he chose, we think a nomination might have been made without serious feeling. But this could only be done on the basis of the most transparent honesty. Because of a lack of mutual confidence in this particular, the bitter and disgraceful fight of yesterday was developed. It does not become us to make charges against one party in the interest of another, but we do insist that the Republican party has claims to consideration in this matter. And no nomination can be violently made, and be carried before the people. Honesty, moderation, and unanimity are, therefore, as much the interest of the candidates, as of the party at large. If these qualities shall obtain, as the result of a week's reflection, and the Convention, when it comes together, shall act moderately and fairly, favorable results may follow. If not, the next Sheriff of Allegheny county will be either an Independent Republican or a Democrat.

But beyond this immediate question of the Shrievalty is that of the general well-being of the party. It is such contests as that of yesterday that drove votes away. Can we afford to have such fights precipitated, at such cost? Have we a rule or ruin faction within the party, and if so, shall it be permitted to rule or ruin? With the work of the other Conventions we believe the people will be satisfied, and we entertain the hope that the disaffection that seems inevitable from this Shrievalty contest will only affect that branch of the ticket. But the time has come when the Republican delegates of the county shall make their nominations, uninterfered with, especially by persons not residents of the county.

A DETROIT paper says: "It costs $1,000, they say, to educate a girl at Vassar College, but when she gets her diploma she can bang on the trapeze head downwards, kick open a gate, jump a fence or crowd a saucy chap off the sidewalk, and the money is not wasted."

ON the question of licensing women to preach, Bishop Bowman, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, is reported to have said at an annual Conference that "the whole tenor of the Discipline is against the licensing of women to preach, and that license to preach implies the right of ordination."

JACOB MCGREW, of Ohio, for a long time Chief Clerk of the Sixth Auditor's office, will be appointed Auditor in place of ex-Congressman Sheats, of Alabama. Sheats was appointed only about three months ago, and has been removed. He has been absent several weeks in Alabama and will not return.

THE New York State Press Association, just in session at Elmira, received pleasant letters of regret from the following: William Cullen Bryant, Francis Kernan, Henry W. Longfellow, James Parton, George William Curtis, Schuyler Colfax, Manton Marble, Whitelaw Reid, J. G. Holland and George W. Childs.

A POOR abused and deserted Detroit wife killed herself the other day, leaving the following proof of the great love she bore the man who was really her murderer: "My dear Richard, for love I got married, for love I die, and God bless you, and I freely forgive you. Pray the same, and we will meet in Heaven above. I got the ten cents of Mrs. Rutridge to get laudanum."

BOTH the Sheridan and Rucker families were adverse to a newspaper splurge over the wedding, and tried to keep the reporters off, but it was hard work. One artist, having been refused a picture of the bride by her mother, followed the family to church, last Sunday, and made a sketch of the young lady who sat by Mrs. Rucker, for his paper, but it turns out to have been another daughter.

JONATHAN CLIFFORD, a Vermont veteran of the war of 1812, contributes to the Centennial curiosities in Boston a powder-horn of antique pattern, which has smelled the smoke of three American wars. Its maker, Daniel Lucas, one of the early settlers of New York, carried it through the French and Indian war, his son bore it through the Revolution, and Mr. Clifford in the war of 1812. It is profusely carved, and bears a metric legend.

A TOAST to Queen Victoria—Here is your good health, Your Majesty, and your family's; may you live long and prosper; may your boys learn to keep out of bad company, and lay up money; may your disagreeable Russian relatives trouble you as little as is consistent with the usages of good society; may your tenants in Canada, India and Australia continue to pay their rent on the nail; may your cistern never run dry, and may your coal pile never give out.

THE royal road anywhere has always been thought easy, but the royal family of England, if newspaper reports are to be trusted, are discovering the beauty of hard work. The Prince and Princess of Wales and the Duke of Edinburgh are mentioned among those who are now seldom seen in society. The Prince is said to have abandoned the billiard and card rooms, and taken to studying the history of India, in preparation for his visit to that country. Prince Arthur is said to be always busy, while the Princesses Helena and Louise are seldom seen abroad. It is impossible to suit everybody, and so it is more than likely, if this sort of thing is continued, that the prediction will be verified of "an awful howl from the shop-keepers."

THE New Orleans Grand Jury has presented four indictments against State Auditor Charles Clinton, two for misdemeanor in office, one for extortion under color of office, and one for embezzling $20,000 of the State funds. Bail has been fixed at $8,500. The Auditor was served with copies, and paroled by the Sheriff.

A DISPATCH just received from Fort Russell, Wy., says one of the four hundred ton hay piles was discovered to be on fire on Monday morning. While the commander was at that fire, the Commissary store house was discovered to be on fire. The latter was extinguished with but little damage. One cavalry stable was also burned.

A LADY in Versailles, Conn., near Norwich, has an old cat which always sharpens her claws on one particular leg of a pine table, and trains every brood of her kittens to do the same thing. The result is that the table leg, originally two inches in diameter, is worn away, it is said, to less than half the size at a point about eight inches from the floor, simply by the action of the cat's and kittens' claws.

A VIOLENT tornado and lightning storm passed over the northeastern part of Quincy, Ill., on Monday night, continuing from eight till ten o'clock. A large number of houses were leveled to the ground, and in numerous instances severe injuries were sustained. John Menne, a brickmaker, was struck by falling timbers and killed. Trains arriving on all the roads reported the tracks considerably damaged. The lightning continued until a late hour at night, though the wind abated.

IN THE United States Circuit Court at New York, criminal bench, on Monday, the members of the firm of Claflin & Co., Field, Morris, Fenner & Co., Colonel Desanges, and Charles L. Lawrence, were arraigned to plead to the indictments found against them by the Grand Jury, for complicity in the silk smuggling frauds, and all plead not guilty, with the exception of Lawrence, whose counsel asked for time, which was granted.

INDICTMENTS have been found against Gen. John McDonald, Ex-Supervisor of Internal Revenue of the St. Louis district, Col. John H. Joyce, Alfred Bevis and Edward B. Frazier. The charge against McDonald and Joyce is marked on the criminal docket for destroying public records, and that against Bevis and Frazier is for the removal and concealment of spirits, and failing to efface stamps and brands. Judge Treat fixed the bonds for McDonald and Joyce at $10,000, Frazier $5,000 and Bevis $2,500.

A STRANGE STORY.

Enoch Arden Outdone.

A curious incident is reported in the American papers. About ten years ago a Jew in straitened circumstances left Transylvania for America to improve his position in the New World. He left a wife and several children behind, and promised that as soon as it was within his means he would send them some money from America. There fortune smiled on him, and when he had amassed a fortune of 60,000 florins he resolved to return home and surprise his family with his wealth. He started without having apprised his family of his intended return, and on his way home he arrived at Hamburg, where he was seized with so dangerous an illness that he made a will bequeathing all his property to his wife. He recovered, however, only to find that during his illness his money had been stolen from him by a man who had nursed him. A few benevolent persons, sympathizing with his misfortunes, collected about one hundred florins, wherewith the unfortunate Jew resolved to return to America in order to retrieve his fortunes. In the meanwhile the nurse had decamped with his booty to America, where, shortly after his arrival, he died suddenly. The American authorities sent the coffin, with the 60,000 florins, to Transylvania, and, as the will was also found in the coffin, the authorities at the same time acquainted the relatives with the death of the testator. After the usual period of mourning, the wife contracted a second marriage. The first husband had, however, again saved a considerable sum of money, and eventually returned to his native country to find his wife married to another man. The event has caused a great sensation in the neighborhood, and it is stated that a conference of rabbis is about to be held to determine to which of the two husbands the woman belongs.—Jewish World.

"THE GRASSHOPPER."

A Poetical View of an Unpoetical Subject.

Perhaps the afflicted people of the West may get a little consolation out of Cowley's poem. See what charm poetic genius gives to the subject which he treats, however charmless the subject may seem to the ordinary taste! It is worthy of note, however, that the poet's genius is kindled by the contemplation of one grasshopper. "Grasshoppers" in the innumerable plural is quite another subject, and might compel the poet to a style of treatment very far from the gay and fantastic:

"Happy insect! what can be
In happiness compared to thee?
Fed with nourishment divine,
The dewy morning's gentle wine!
Nature waits upon thee still,
And thy verdant cup does fill;
'Tis filled wherever thou dost tread,
Nature's self's thy Ganymede,
Thou dost drink, and dance and sing,
Happier than the happiest king!
All the fields which thou dost see,
All the plants, belong to thee;
All that Summer hours produce,
Fertile made with early juice,
Man does for thee sow and plough,
Farmer he, and landlord thou!"

A Letter from Mrs. Fremont.

A reunion was held, in San Francisco, on the evening of the 4th inst., of surviving passengers of the steamer Panama on its first arrival at that port twenty-six years ago. The Panama was the third steamer of the Pacific Mail Line that reached San Francisco, and among her passengers were ex-Senator William M. Gwin, Gen. Joe Hooker, Admiral Porter, and Mrs. Fremont, the latter named being the only lady on board. At the reunion on the 4th, the following pleasant letter from her was read:

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., June 4.

To W. H. V. Cronise: Please say to my old friends of the Panama that I return them my warm thanks for the kind and flattering request sent through you. It would please me greatly to believe that in the changes and losses life brings I could keep up the regard and good will of those I had known when I was young and impatient of wrong. My father told me he had lived a long life, and his experience was that there was more good than evil in people. My journey of '49 taught me the uncommon goodness of American men toward women and children, and ever since I have continued to find how wise and right my father was. Honor and troops of friends crowned his days, and I wish the same of those who so kindly remember me after a quarter of a century.

How Beach Looks.

A correspondent of the Chicago Inter-Ocean gives the following description of Tilton's senior counsel:—Beach is tall, but round-shouldered. His nose is hooked like a bald eagle's beak. His eyes are gray, and hair white. His age is about fifty-six. He looks like a good old Hard-shell Baptist preacher—a man who believes in fore-ordination, baptismal regeneration, and all the hard-shell dogmas of the primitive hell-fire, circuit-riding preacher. Beach's clothes are a wonderful combination. Take his suit altogether, and you will find every fashion from the time of Louis XIV. down. His collar is high, neck long, and bound up with an antique black stock, which comes three inches above his coat, like the stock of lawyer Meddler in "London Assurance." His chin is crowned with a little tuft of gray hair—a sort of Southern goatee. His vest commences small at the top, and keeps growing larger till it reaches the waist, but is always so loose that you could hide a bundle of oats under it. Lean, lank, and cadaverous, he stands there like a hungry hawk. His words are strong, and his sentences short and bristling with facts. I doubt if Beach's short Saxon words are not more potent with the jury than Evarts' long Latin sentences.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, June 16, 1875.

The absorbing topic yesterday was politics. Yet the business of the city went forward and the banks report a fair demand for loans and a good line of deposits. The inflow and outflow of money is now clearly recognized as indicating a decided improvement in manufacturing operations, and it forecasts a more hopeful Summer trade. There is more activity in real estate, but not at improved prices. Local stocks and bonds are also more active.

Says the New York Tribune: Of the condition of the dry goods market the best comments may be found in the news columns of daily journals, where announcements have been made during the week of the entire stoppage of production by some of the Eastern mills for the reason that the market will not justify continued manufacturing. It may be remembered that in January last, when the general resumption of work in these mills from half to three-fourths time—at which they had for a long time been run—up to full time and capacity, the fact was generally accepted as a sure sign of renewed prosperity. Recent events have clearly demonstrated the truth of the remark that "the foundation of all healthy trade is to be sought in the ability of the community to buy and consume, and the capacity of the manufacturer to produce." The all-absorbing question of the week in stock circles—the railroad war—we find to have attracted but little, if any, attention in commercial circles. There has been no hastening forward of shipments either Eastward or Westward to avail of the present low rates of freight in anticipation of an advance, the general impression seeming to be that under existing circumstances it is of but little consequence.

Robinson Brothers, Bankers, No. 75 Fourth avenue, furnish the following of quotations bonds and stocks from the latest advices by telegraph:

NEW YORK, June 15, 1875.

Money was a drug at 2@2½; choice to only good mercantile paper 3½@6½. Sterling was steady at 486¾@486⅞ for sixty days, and 490@490¼ for sight. The customs receipts were $267,000. The exports of produce for the week were $5,672,819. Gold opened and closed at 116⅜, with sales in the interim at 116½. The carrying rates were 1 per cent. Loans were also made flat and 2½ for borrowing. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $2,7-,000. The clearings were $32,000,000. Governments are strong. Railroad mortgages are firm, with a general advance in Union Pacific issues. State bonds are quiet.

Stocks opened quiet and firm. The principal features were Lake Shore, Union Pacific, St. Paul, Northwest, Western Union and New Jersey Central. At the second call the market was firm at a slight reaction from the highest point. At the close the market was quiet and firm. New Jersey Central made the greatest advance, selling at 107@109¼, and closing at 109¼. St. Paul advanced to 32⅜, operators in the stock having recovered from their scare of Saturday and Monday. There were large orders from the West for St. Paul to-day. Union Pacific rose to 75⅜ on a favorable statement of earnings and expenses for April. What also contributed to the strength of the stock were orders from the East to buy some round amounts, being paid for in full and taken out of the market. Northwest was more in favor, and rose to 38 for common and 50½ for preferred on the understanding that there was no chance of any fresh issue of stock, about which so much has been said recently. Lake Shore rose from 63⅞ to 64⅝, and Western Union from 74⅝ to 75⅝. Kansas Pacific advanced 1 per cent., from 18 to 19.

The earnings of the Union Pacific for April, 1875, as compared with the same month of 1874, show an increase in gross earnings of $260,859, increase in operating expenses of $75,973, and an increase in net earnings of $183,885. The net earnings increase is $440,000 from January 1st to April 30th, as compared with the same time last year. The above statement of earnings and expenses for April embraces the period in which the transportation of through trains was interrupted by severe freshets west of the Rocky mountains, while the expense account includes the cost of the transfers and repairs of the track resulting from the freshet. The transactions on the Stock Exchange aggregated 96,000 shares, of which 12,000 were Pacific Mail, 21,000 Western Union, 8,000 Northwest, 7,000 St. Paul, 4,000 Erie, 20,000 Lake Shore and 13,000 Union Pacific.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

PITTSBURGH PETROLMEU MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, June 15, 1875.

The market for both Crude and Refined continues quiet, and devoid of anything specially new or important. Crude has undergone but little change for several days; immediate shipment quoted at $1,40@1,42½ ℔ bbl. Refined is quotable at 13 delivered in Philadelphia and Baltimore, and 10⅜@10½c on Connellsville cars to go to Baltimore. There have been but very few sales here for several weeks, refiners generally refusing to sell at current rates.

The Barrel trade is quiet but firm; sales of city make at $1,30@1,32½. Countries unchanged at $1,10@1,15.

Chicago Seed Market.

CHICAGO, June 14.—There was no change in particular either in prices or in the condition of this market. A few lots of timothy sold at $2,40@2,57½ for fair to extra bright. There was nothing done in clover and prices were nominal at $6,40@6,50 for prime medium. Flax nominal at $1,60@1,65 for crushing. Receivers found it very difficult to dispose of small lots of Hungarian, as the orders received are generally being filled by dealers, who have a good supply on hand. Prices were rather irregular, sales being made at $1,30 to $1,45 for prime; and $1,50 for choice. Millet remains quiet but firm; sold at $2,00 for prime. There was a good demand for buckwheat and $1,40 was paid for prime.

Chicago Lumber Market.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The cargo market was rather quiet on Saturday. The fleet was arriving, and buyers were not very numerous, and many of those present were not prepared to purchase because they have not yet been able to make room for the stuff at the yard docks. Others were waiting for the remainder of the fleet, which will probably be at the docks this morning. Sales of seven or eight cargoes were made at the current prices. Manistee and Luddington piece stuff was quoted at $8@8,12½, the outside for very choice, and very coarse lots from other ports were offered at lower figures. Strips and boards range from $8,50 to $10 for common, and $11 to $14 for fair to choice. Lath were quoted at $1,50.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, June 15.—Business continues quiet with commission houses, importers and jobbers. Cotton goods are very dull in agents' hands, but prices are fairly maintained. Medium fancy prints at low prices are jobbing freely. Union mourning prints are all reduced to 8½c, and Gloucester plain blacks and Shepherd plaids to the same price. Gloucester cambrics are now 8c. Woolen goods are steady.

DAILY REPORT OF PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, June 15, 1875.

The general markets continue dull and devoid of anything particularly new or important excepting that there is a firmer feeling in Breadstuffs in consequence of the recent advance in Wheat in the west, and Flour has commenced to sympathize. The grocery trade continues quiet, and the same is true of produce generally; the demand is light, restricted mainly to supplying immediate necessities, although in the aggregate there is a very fair business. Potatoes in consequence of diminished receipts are firm and higher. The hog products continue to move steadily, but prices remain unchanged.

APPLES—Selling in a jobbing way at $3,50@4,50 ℔ bbl, according to quality and condition.

APPLE BUTTER—50@55c ℔ gal.

BEANS—Quiet and unchanged; mediums, $1,75@1,85; navies, $1,90@2.

BUTTER—The market continues quiet and unchanged; prime to choice solid packed, 18@22c; medium to fair, 12 to 15. There is but little roll coming forward; choice quotable at 25.

CHEESE—There is a very fair jobbing trade, but with the market well supplied and holders generally anxious to realize, prices are weak but unchanged; prime Ohio Factory 11@11½c.

DRIED FRUIT—Apples are quotable at 7@7½ for fair and 8@8½ for prime to choice. Peaches, (halves) 10@10½.

EGGS—The market is steady at 20c for fresh, guaranteed as such, with some dealers quoting at 21 cents.

FLOUR—The market for Spring Wheat flours is firmer in sympathy with the advance in spring wheat; while there has been no advance in this market as yet, it is said that some of the western millers have got their ideas up already. We continue former quotations: Spring wheat flour, $5,75@6,25, the outside figure for choice Minnesotas; winters at $6,25@6,50 for red and $6,75@7 for amber and white. Rye Flour, $6@6,25.

GROCERIES—The grocery trade continues dull, and devoid of any new or important characteristics to which reference has not previously been made. Both Sugars and Coffees continue very firm, and while Molasses is quiet, the stock of New Orleans in this market is light, unusually so, and holders are firm at quotations.

GRAIN—The grain markets continue very dull, in consequence of the unsettled condition of prices, as well as the fact that the time is near at hand when it is customary to make quarterly and semi-annual settlements; buyers are taking hold very sparingly, buying no more than they can possibly avoid. Wheat is possibly firmer in tone, but quiet and unchanged; Penna. and Ohio red, $1,25@1,30; ditto amber and white, 3 to 5 cents additional. The Oat market continues dull, and notwithstanding the supply here is small, it is fully up to the demand, and prices are barely maintained; we continue to quote at 67@68c for mixed, and 69@70c for white. Ear Corn is still reported dull but unchanged; 75@77 on track. Shelled Corn is also dull; 78@80c free in elevator, as to quality. Rye is quiet and unchanged at $1,15@1,20.

HAY—Baled is in steady demand and light supply, and prices are firm but unchanged, $22@24, on track, for fair to prime timothy.

POTATOES—The market continues to stiffen, which may be attributed to light receipts and prices are tending upward. Peach Blows quotable at 85@90c on track, and $1 in a jobbing way from store.

PROVISIONS—There is a continued steady demand, but prices have undergone little or no change since the date of our last report. Notwithstanding the constant fluctuation at Chicago, the result of manipulation, the feeling appears to be gaining ground that prices have about touched bottom.

New York Breadstuffs Market—Weekly Review.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The features of our Wheat market the past week have presented a decided contrast to those of the preceding week. The more favorable advices from Europe, and large orders thence, especially from the Continent, have given a decided impulse to the market, and a very large business has been done in Spring, part to arrive. The absence of a liberal supply of Chicago Spring has compelled shippers to fill their orders with Milwaukee, and this has been purchased largely for present and future delivery at a decided advance. The receipts at the Upper Lake ports have fallen off somewhat, and the shipments to Buffalo and Oswego up to the 6th of June were largely below the expectations of the trade, this especially true of Chicago; but since that date clearances from that port have been large. In a previous issue we estimated the exports from this port in June at 5,000,000 bushels, but owing to Chicago withholding her supplies from market, we find our estimate was much too large, and now place it at about 4,000,000 bush., and the prospects now are that the exports for July will exceed 4,200,000 bush. In September last, the attentive reader will remember, we estimated the crop in Wisconsin and Minnesota at 30 per cent below that of the preceding year, and we have had no reason since to change that estimate; and assuming that estimate to be correct, they (the farmers) must now hold considerable Wheat but much less than for the corresponding time in 1874. The increase in their local wants and in the quantity required for seed, we think, has been greater than we estimated. They still hold, probably, twenty to twenty-five per cent of the last crop, and will be slow to market it until they have secured another crop, or until they know the result of the growing crop—the reports from the Winter Wheat States respecting the growing crop are generally as favorable from the West as previously advised, but from the Atlantic States they are less favorable, and it is very plain that we must look to the West to make good the deficiency. The Spring Wheat crop promises well, and farmers in the Winter Wheat States hold fully one-third of their crop. Our surplus for export the coming Autumn will be moderate, but so much depends upon the weather up to harvest that it is useless to express any opinion of the probable amount. Our advices from California this week have been favorable; their surplus promises to be larger than was estimated three weeks since. Our advices from Europe are generally not as favorable as previously received, and it is very evident their crops on the Continent and in Great Britain do not promise an average. Our estimate made some time since of the consumption of Wheat for cattle food in Great Britain and on the Continent (and to which we attached much importance in November and December last), was much too small. Notwithstanding the large importations into Great Britain since the 1st of October last and the very large deliveries of their farmers, we find they hold very light stocks at all their principal ports, and the same is true of the Continent generally, and it is very evident that they will have to depend upon this country this year, as hitherto, to make good their deficiencies. The quantity now afloat from this country, including California, is very much less than at the corresponding time last year. From this coast the quantity is about 1,400,000 bushels, about one quarter of it for the Continent. In Winter the business has been greatly restricted for want of assortment. The export from this port this week has been 874,929 bushels, against 1,514,086 bushels the corresponding week last year.

Our Flour market the past week has been characterized by a fair degree of activity and considerable variableness. Early in the week, under the more favorable advices from the Continent, and some improvement in the tone and spirit of the English markets, a slight advance was established in Shipping Extras, but shippers limits as a rule would not permit them to exceed former prices, and later in the week sellers could not make progress unless at some concession. At this a good business has been done for Liverpool, London and Glasgow, and a moderate business for the British Provinces, chiefly in Extras valued at $5@5,05. Many of these Extras are of really very good quality, from Minnesota and Iowa, and the prices obtained for them are below the cost to the miller, but this is an oft-repeated tale, and we are now happy to state that the prospects for the future are more encouraging. During the past year French and German millers have constantly overstocked the London, Liverpool and Glasgow markets with low and choice grades, but the coming year, we think, they are not likely to do so. The local trade in medium and choice grades of Spring and Winter Wheat has been limited and at unsatisfactory prices. At a further concession in choice Amber Indiana, Ohio and Michigan brands a fair business has been done for the West Indies and South America. Family grades have sold slowly, and at lower and irregular prices. Jobbers still continue to operate from hand to mouth, and it seems useless to attempt to force sales, as it could only be done by submitting to ruinous figures. No. 2 Superfine has been in fair request at variable figures, the demand in part for the provinces. City Ground has been in moderate request for the West Indies and South America, but at variable prices. Fancy brands of Minnesota have sold slowly at about former prices. New Patent Process has been offered with less freedom, and we find the stock of good medium brands is quite light; these have been taken for the London market to some extent, where they are quite popular, and compare favorably with the French of like value. The low prices current for good Amber Winter Wheat brands have caused them to displace leading Bakers' Extras from Minnesota. Leading brands of Shipping Extras from Milwaukee are held at $5,10@5,15 per bushel, but shippers do not take them freely, as good brands of Minnesota are offered at $5@5,05, hence the latter, being of equal quality, are preferred. State Extras have sold quite freely at $4,95@5,05. The exports of the week are 27,347 barrels, against 57,-289 barrels the corresponding week last year.—Tribune.

THE stage of water last evening was three feet ten inches and stationary. Cloudy and cool, with indications at this writing favorable for rain. Our Louisville and St. Louis dispatches of Monday reported rain; coal men have not yet given up all hope of a June rise.

THE A. J. Baker arrived from St. Louis.

CAPT. ADAMS proposes to load the Wild Duck on the first water.

THE Exbhange was to have left Cincinnati for this port yesterday.

THE rise in the river has suspended work on the John Dippold's sunken barge near Memphis.

THE Granite State arrived at Cincinnati on Monday evening, and goes on the dock for repairs

Two barges and the hull of a steamer, for the U. S. Light-house Service, were launched at Jeffersonville, Saturday evening.

VICKSBURG is to furnish the stone for Captain Eads' jetties, and expects to realize a large amount of money from the laborers engaged in quarrying, etc.

THERE is very little doing at the ore pile below St. Louis. One of the Salt Company's barges, and a barge for the Grand Tower, are all that are taking cargo.

FREIGHT from Cairo to New Orleans by rail is now taken at 12½c ℔ cwt, and 25c ℔ bbl on flour. From St. Louis the rates is 20 cents ℔ cwt, and 50c on flour.

THE Fanny Tatum from St. Louis is among the first boats due; it is not probable, unless there is a prospect of water when she gets there, that she will attempt to come above Wheeling.

THE Nashville has been repaired on the Paducah docks. Her damaged bacon was sold at auction, and the balance of her cargo sent forward up the Tennessee River on the Rapidan No. 2.

CAPT. JOHN J. DARRAGH, late of the Paragon, is temporarily in command of the Belle of Texas, in the absence of Capt. Woodburn, who, as stated elsewhere, is here looking after his new boat.

THE Jim Brown, which boat was sent down to help up the Alice and Sam Brown, arrived. She reports the Alice laid up at Industry with five barges, and the Sam at Georgetown with three barges.

THE John L. Rhoads departed for St. Louis with an excellent freight list, all she could take on boat and barge—she will drop the barge when she gets to Pomeroy. Geo. Hughes and Marsh Hays are her pilots.

MR. T. J. DARRAGH who was clerk of the Paragon from the time she came out until she was burned, and was also on the Exporter when she was burned by the New Orleans conflagration, a short time after the burning of the first named boat, is in the city. He has taken an interest in Captain John Woodburn's new boat, and will go out as clerk of her.

CAPT. JOHN WOODBURN, well known in marine circles here, but who for several years past has been steamboating on the Arkansas river, was in the city yesterday. The hull of his new boat, which he has under contract for the Arkansas river trade, was launched at Freedom on Saturday, and will be towed up here to-day. The hull is 150 feet in length, 26 feet beam and 4 feet hold; it is drawing but six inches now, and Capt. Woodburn expects her to trim up to 12 inches when completed, with cabin, machinery and all on board. The machinery is being built by Jas. Rees. Capt. W. expects to have her completed in about six weeks.

YESTERDAY'S Cincinnati Commercial says: Capt. Wash. Kerr's Pittsburgh and Portsmouth packet Granite State arrived from Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon, bringing 50 tons of Pittsburgh manufactures. While backing out from Crown City, twenty-two miles below Gallipolis, Sunday, about 11 A. M., the Granite State collided with the Oakland's tow of barges, ascending the river. The latter had four barges abreast, the bow of one of which struck the Granite State on the larboard side, aft of the boilers, sweeping away several stationary fenders, and cutting a hole and shoving in the side of the hull about twenty feet. The Granite State shipped about sixteen inches of water before she could be run ashore. Some little freight in her hold was damaged, and protest entered at Ironton. The Granite State will go in the docks for repairs. The Oakland proceeded to Pittsburgh with her tow, the bow of one of her barges being considerably splintered. The collision will give our local Inspectors more work. The Granite State's cargo consists of 380 bbls and 444 boxes of glassware, 20 bbls of pickles, 21 cases files, 190 bdls gas pipes, 6 boxes hardware for Cincinnati, and reshipped 7 bdls steel, 4 cases files, 2 cases cutlery for Louisville on the mail boat, and 2 bales corks for Tell City on the J. D. Parker. She went up to Fulton for repairs...... The rates of freight to New Orleans are as follows: 25c for through bacon, 30c per hundred for butter and similar pound lots, and $1 per bbl for whisky. Corn is now taking along the Lower Ohio to New Orleans at 20c per bag, which is better than the recent ruinously low figures of 15c and 17c per bag...... John Shearer, late one of the Mollie Ebert's clerks, arrived here on the Granite State. Robert Kerr, the clerk of the Granite State, is enjoying fine health, and visits his relatives and friends after a hard season's work...... The Louisville mail boat reshipped 620 sacks and 45 bbls flour, 15 empty oil barrels for Pittsburgh on the Exchange.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PROPOSALS

For Furnishing Stationery, Paper and Fuel to the several Departments of the State Government, and for the Distribution of School Reports and School Laws and Decisions.

In compliance with the provisions of section twelve, article three, of the Constitution of the Commonwealth, and of an act of the General Assembly, entitled "An act to carry out the provisions of section twelve, article three, of the Constitution, relative to contracts for supplies for the Legislature and the various departments of the State Government," approved the 16th day of March, A. D. 1874, I hereby invite sealed proposals, at prices below maximum rates herein fixed, for contracts to furnish stationery, paper and fuel to the several departments of the State Government, for the year ending the first Monday of June, A. D. 1876, and for furnishing lumber and making two hundred and thirty-five boxes for shipment of county, city and borough superintendents of common schools, school reports, school laws and decisions and forms, for use of directors, teachers, &c.; also, for the folding and packing of said reports, laws, decisions, and forms, and making the boxes, and for their delivery to superintendents as aforesaid; said boxes must be made of a good quality of dry pine lumber, be planed inside and have outside of lids planed, and be of the following dimensions viz.:

No. of Boxes.	Length Inside.	Breadth Inside.	Depth Inside.
170	36 inches	16½ inches	15 inches
50	28 inches	14 inches	12 inches
15	18 inches	12 inches	12 inches

Separate proposals will be received and separate contracts awarded for furnishing the lumber and making the boxes; for folding, packing and marking; and for delivery to superintendents.

All proposals must be addressed and delivered to me on or before 12 o'clock M., of the 17th day of June, A. D. 1875, at which time the proposals will be opened and the contracts awarded, and the party to whom any contract is awarded will be required, before entering on the performance of the same, to give bond with sufficient security, to be approved by the Attorney General, conditioned for the faithful performance of the obligations of the contract, and in case of his failure to do so the contract will be awarded to the next lowest responsible bidder. The entire quantity of stationery and fuel advertised for is to be delivered during the year as ordered by the proper officer, and at places designated by such officer. And all bids for furnishing stationery will be of a gross sum for all the stationery required by each Department; and the party or parties to whom the contract or contracts for furnishing stationery are awarded must furnish not only in quantity, but also in kind and quality the several articles included in the estimates for each Department.

I hereby fix the maximum prices for stationery as follows, viz.: For the Executive Department, at $275; for the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, at $1,900; for the office of the Auditor General, at $1,500; for the office of the State Treasurer, at $525; for the office of the Attorney General, at $125; for the Department of Common Schools, at $550; for the Department of Soldiers' Orphans' Schools, at $500; for the State Library, at $125; for the Insurance Department, at $375; for the office of the Adjutant General, at $510; for the office of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, at $2,500; for the Board of Public Charities, at $150.

I fix the maximum price for fuel as follows, viz.: For anthracite coal, at the rate of seven dollars per ton, and for wood, at nine dollars per cord. I also fix the maximum price for furnishing lumber and making boxes for shipment of school reports, school laws and decisions, and forms for use of directors, teachers, &c., at $550; for folding, packing and marking, at $350, and for distributing to Superintendents, at $500.

DAILY GAZETTE.

Circulation, 15,800.

THE WEEKLY GAZETTE.

The current issue of the WEEKLY GAZETTE is for sale on our counter to-day. It contains a complete resume of local and general news, telegraphic intelligence from every part of the world, commercial, financial, oil and cattle market reports, and editorials on all the leading topics of the day; altogether, thirty-six columns of choice reading matter, embracing subjects of interest to the lawyer, the doctor, the merchant, the mechanic, the farmer, and the family. The reputation of the GAZETTE is so thoroughly established, especially in the correctness of its commercial and market reports, that it has gained a circulation

The Largest in Western Pennsylvania.

It is, at the same time, the cheapest in the list of weeklies of its grade. The subscription and club rates are as follows:

TERMS—Single copy, $1.75; clubs of five, $1.50; clubs of ten, $1.40; this includes postage paid by the publishers. A copy of the WEEKLY GAZETTE will be sent free to the party who acts as agent, for every ten numbers paid for.

Its especial merits are:

It contains the Latest News from all parts of the World.

Its Market Reports are prepared especially and exclusively for this journal, and are the only reliable ones published in Pittsburgh.

It is especially adapted for the Farmer Mechanic, Merchant and general Family use.

The large circulation of the GAZETTE is attributable to the recognition of its merits, and not to the efforts of canvassers who make a business of securing names on a percentage. Postmasters at many points have acted for us and these alone are our accredited agents. All desirous of receiving the best Weekly published in Pittsburgh should subscribe at once.

Stock Sales.

The following stocks were sold at Jas. Drape & Co.'s auction rooms on Monday evening:

First National Bank of Allegheny.....$150
Peoples National Bank of Pittsburgh.. 112

Seriously Injured.

Yesterday morning as a milk man, whose name we were unable to learn, was driving along Spring alley, in the Twelfth ward, he drove over a child, which resulted in serious injuries to the little one. The man surrendered himself to the authorities.

Thrown from a Train.

A man named John L. Kennedy, while intoxicated, yesterday afternoon, attempted to get on a train while in motion, at Jack's run, below Allegheny, but was thrown violently to the ground and one of his knee caps fractured, and he was otherwise badly injured. Dr. Buchanan had him removed to the Western Pennsylvania Hospital.

Thrown Off a Horse.

Last evening as a man in the employ of Mr. John Young, the butcher at the corner of Locust and Juniata streets, in Allegheny, was riding along Locust street on a horse, the animal became frightened and threw him to the ground. His head struck against the curb stone and it is believed his skull was fractured. He was removed to Mr. Young's residence and medical aid summoned.

Acquitted.

The jury in the case of Zurdam, Palmer and Thomas, brought in a verdict of acquittal yesterday morning in favor of all the defendants. It will be remembered that they were indicted for entering the Peoples Savings Bank with intent to commit a felony. The two former were discharged by Judge Stowe, but Thomas was held on a bail piece and taken to Baltimore, where he is wanted to answer to a charge of robbery.

Fair and Festival.

Last evening the Fair and Festival for the benefit of the English Lutheran Church, Allegheny, was opened in the store room recently occupied by James Caldwell, on Federal street, above Park Way. The apartments have been handsomely decorated. There are a number of booths and the articles of beauty, and utility on sale are innumerable. The opening was a brilliant one and gave promise of a harvest of pleasure for all who attend. The entertainment will continue for several evenings, and we know of no better place, where so much beauty may be seen, more pleasant company enjoyed, or an evening be spent with more pleasurable surroundings.

The Effects of the Late Storm at Pine Creek

The late storm was quite disastrous in its results on Pine creek. On the Gourdhead branch, at Lunche's tavern, the water was four feet high on the floor of the main building and destroyed the carpets, and ice houses suffered great damage. The creek gorged in many places and made new channels on account of rails and portions of bridges damming up the water. At Spang Chalfant & Co.'s mill, the workmen had to leave their furnaces with the charges of iron in them. The new county bridge at Etna will have to suspend work for some days on account of the coffer dam being carried off, which cannot be rebuilt until the water falls. The saw mills at the mouth of Pine creek also suffered some loss by their timber being carried out into the river as the amount of fences and plank and other rubbish gathered against the rafts and caused the lines to break. The most of the timber was caught above Herr's Island and will be towed back. The stone wall at Wirt's slaughter house on the creek at Etna was undermined and will cause quite a loss. The creek was higher by two feet than at the time of the Butcher's Run flood last July.

SPECIAL ELECTIONS.

Councilmanic Vacancies Filled Yesterday.

Special elections to fill Councilmanic vacancies were held in the Second, Eighteenth and Thirty-sixth wards yesterday. In the Eighteenth ward there was a vacancy occasioned by the absence of J. Harvey Jones. The election resulted in the success of Mr N. P. Sarver, Democrat, who had 104 votes to 68 cast for his opponent, Samuel Garrison.

The election in the Thirty-sixth ward was favorable to Mr. Michael Rogers, by the following vote: Rogers, 148; Jos. Dorrington, 115; Thomas Fox, 17. There was a vacancy in this ward occasioned by the resignation of J. W. Ballantine.

The vacancy in the Second ward was occasioned by the resignation of Mr. Ed. House. The election resulted in favor of Mr. James M. Fahnestock.

All these gentlemen will take their seats at the next meeting of Councils.

UNSTAMPED CHECKS.

A Revenue Officer Has No Right to Go Behind the Counter of a National Bank.

In the United States District Court yesterday, Judges McKennan and McCandless on the bench, the case of the United States vs. Parkhill, cashier of the Monongahela National Bank of Brownsville, came up for argument. At the last term of this Court the jury had found a verdict in favor of the United States, subject to a question of law reserved, the question involved being whether a cashier is justified by the National Banking act in refusing admission to any person except the Bank Examiner. Assistant United States District Attorney P. C. Knox argued the case in behalf of the Government, and Gen. J. B. Sweitzer for the defendant, at the conclusion of which, the Court rendered a decision in favor of the defendant, notwithstanding the verdict found.

MORTUARY RECORD.

AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

It is but justice to say that the "Jack and Jill" Pantomime troupe, including all its varied and novel features, is as good a one as ever appeared in this city. It comprises jugglers, gymnasts, acrobats, velocipedists and dancers, all of them of the highest rank in their profession.

Strawberry Festival.

It has been concluded to continue through this evening the strawberry and ice cream festival at the Cumberland Presbyterian church, on Sixth avenue, between Wood and Smithfield streets. No pleasanter place can be visited to-night.

Penna. Female College.

Rev. James I. Brownson, D. D. delivers the annual address this evening at the First Presbyterian church, East Liberty. The commencement exercises will be held to-morrow evening.

Church Home Festival.

To-morrow afternoon a festival will be held at the Church Home, corner Fortieth and Penn streets, commencing at 3 o'clock. Supper 75 cents.

If warm weather ever comes in earnest people will want ice cream with that, they will find that the Cocoanut Drops, Macaroons and Lady Fingers, made by S. S. Marvin & Co., are the best and cheapest they can buy.

THE CONVENTIONS.

The Excitement in Political Circles Yesterday.

Large Gatherings and Earnestness of Feeling.

Nominating Republican Standard Bearers for the Coming Campaign.

Pen Pictures of the Political Battles Yesterday.

Yesterday the Republican County Conventions were held. There was an unusual interest felt in these gatherings this year, partly because of the importance of the offices for which candidates were to be named, and partly because of the large increase in the number of delegates to each body. There were over eight hundred delegates in the four Conventions. Considering this large representation and the closeness of the contests in some directions, the Conventions were harmonious and did their work with but comparatively little confusion, as in only one body, No. 1, was there a prolonged contest or much feeling engendered. The spirit of the gatherings and the way in which their work was done, are set forth in the appended reports:

CONVENTION NO. 1.

Mr. Chas. S. Fetterman called this Convention to order at eleven o'clock yesterday morning in the Common Pleas Court room No. 1, and stated that the first thing in order was the nomination of a temporary Chairman. The names of Wm. Blakely and James S. Woodwell were at once suggested, but so great was the crowd that nothing could be done in the way of proceeding to an election. A delegate finally intimated, when there was a sufficient lull in the turmoil to allow himself to be heard, that temporary Secretaries should be nominated, and he named T. P. Graham, J. Sample, Sam. Shore and Wm. Barker. Mr. Magee moved as an amendment that each candidate be allowed to name a temporary Secretary, but neither motion was put, and indeed it would have been useless to attempt to reach a vote, for the space inside the bar was filled by all the delegates who could get in it, and the lobby was occupied by outsiders, who made more noise than all else, and retarded the transaction of business very materially. In order to get interlopers outside a motion was carried that all the delegates as well as everybody else retire from the rooms, and that none except those provided with credentials be readmitted: Messrs. J. P. McKee, H. Wainwright, Wm. Hosack, R. Elliott and T. P. Graham were appointed a committee to stand at the door and examine credentials as they were presented. Having made all these arrangements it was found that the delegates and outsiders did not manifest any disposition to leave.

POLICE ASKED FOR.

Chris. Magee mounted a table and moved that a communication be sent to the Mayor requesting him to detail a force of police to preserve order. The motion was received with cries of scorn and was not put. Some time passed without anything being done, when a gentleman moved that the committee appointed to examine the credentials be instructed to secure old City Hall for the Convention to meet in, as the Court Room was altogether inadequate to accommodate, with any degree of comfort, all who were present. The motion was carried unanimously, and the committee started out on its errand, but as time passes very slowly to a large body of impatient men, there were many who thought its absence was prolonged altogether too much and they got tired of waiting.

Mr. McClung, of Plum township—Mr. President, I would like to ask you a question.

Chair—Well, sir, what is it?

Mr. McClung—Why doesn't that committee report? I believe they are staying away so as to tire the country delegates out and leave the work in the hands of the city delegates. I don't believe in this. I think there should be fair play.

Chair—The Chair has no knowledge of any such scheme. The committee have not yet returned.

Delegate—While we are waiting, Mr. President, I move that a committee be appointed to show the country delegates where Ortwein was hung. [Loud laughter.]

Shortly after this the committee returned and reported that old City Hall had been secured, and that a detail of police had been stationed at the front door to exclude all who could not produce satisfactory evidence that they were entitled to admission. The report was received with enthusiasm and the movement City Hall-wards was so prompt that inside of fifteen minutes the Court room was deserted.

IN THE DIAMOND.

Doubtless many of the delegates stopped on the way to get a lunch, for it was half past twelve o'clock before they had all assembled in the hall, which accommodated them without a particle of inconvenience, and left sufficient space for several hundred more. When Mr. Fetterman for a second time called the Convention to order there were probably three hundred persons in the hall, and he asked that all the delegates remain behind a row of seats which had been stretched across the hall in front of the stage, and that as the districts were called they come forward and present their credentials. This arrangement was kept in force until after the credentials had been received and a permanent chairman elected. On motion of J. P. McKee each candidate was allowed to name his own Secretary, and the following were appointed: T. P. Graham for Lindsay, W. M. DeCamp for Diehl, D. C. Holtz for Fife and Robert Barker for Cluley.

"LET US HAVE PEACE."

The outsiders having succeeded in passing the Vidocqs at the front door, and gaining a very creditable representation within, Park McKee expressed his opinion to the effect that they should be ejected, and he made a motion to that purpose. It was evident, however, that to single out those who had no business there would be almost an interminable job, and as a compromise Messrs. John H. Hare, J. P. McKee, Wm. Hill, T. S. Walters, Wm. McClurg, H. H. McCormick, Wm. Stevens, John Christy, William Kober and William Jones were appointed to maintain order and uphold dignity.

On motion of W. C. Cooke, Alderman Isaac Stewart, of Allegheny, was appointed as an additional Secretary in the interest of Judge Parke.

When a measure of quiet had been obtained, the reception of credentials was commenced, and as the districts were called the accredited delegate stepped to the front and presented his document as follows:

PITTSBURGH.

First ward—John Evans, W. B. Hunter, R. C. Elliott.
Second ward—W. M. Decamp, T. H. Phelps, John R. Scott.
Third ward—Jerry Murphy, W. H. Reed.

CONTESTED SEATS.

This tedious and monotonous work occupied almost an hour, and when finished it was ascertained that the seat of A. Ludwig, from the Second district of the Second ward, was contested by T. H. Phelps; the seat of Thomas McCord, from the Third district of the Fifth ward, contested by George W. Camp; the seat of F. A. Schaefer, from the Second district of the Tenth ward, contested by D. Beck; the seat of John Semple, from the Third district of the Eleventh ward, contested by James McGaffin; the seat of J. N. McMillen, from the Second district of the Thirteenth ward, contested by W. S. Smith; the seat of Joshua Holmes, from the First district of the Twenty-first ward, contested by R. Thompson; the seat of M. G. Frank, from the Second district of the Thirtieth ward, contested by Thomas Evans; the seat of Robert Smith, from the Second district of the Thirty-fifth ward, contested by P. C. Burke; the seat of A. Moul, from the Fourth district of the Third ward, Allegheny, contested by A. Lingenfelter; the seat of Wm. Wettach as delegate at large from the Third ward, Allegheny, contested by John Renwick; the seat of C. R. Jacoby, from the fourth district of the Sixth ward, Pittsburgh, contested by Edward Everson. When the roll was completed it was ascertained that two hundred and twenty delegates had answered to their names.

CHOOSING A CHAIRMAN.

Nominations for permanent chairman being asked for the names of Wm. Blakely and J. S. Woodwell were borne in upon the storm of voices. The latter was the representative of the Lindsay interests and Mr. Blakely was a Fife man. The latter got the votes of the Diehl men because they did not wish to show their strength. With these two gentlemen the nominations closed and the chair stated that it would require 112 votes to elect.

Bob Elliott moved that in contested districts neither set of delegates be allowed to vote. Park McKee moved as an amendment that all delegates who had presented credentials containing the signatures of the entire election board be allowed to vote. The amendment after being put to a vote was decided carried.

Wm. Jones—I understand that Col. Blakely's seat in this Convention is contested. If that is so I don't think he has any right to be voted for.

The Chair—I don't know anthing about it.

Chris. Magee—If it is so the Convention will settle it.

VOTING.

The calling of the roll was commenced, and as the name of each delegate was uttered he came forward and stated which candidate he voted for. None were permitted to vote until they came to the front so that they could be seen by everybody, and in that way a number, who were not entitled, but who attempted to take part in the election, were prevented from doing so. The voting had almost been completed when Wm. Jones cried out that Mr. Woodwell's friends conceded the election of Mr. Blakely and that it was no use to go any further. He suggested that the voting be stopped, but it was vigorously opposed because the Diehl and Fife men by voting for Blakely were not showing their strength, but the Lindsay men in voting for Woodwell were exhibiting their exact strength. It was for the purpose of ascertaining Mr. Lindsay's following that the suggestion to withdraw Mr. Woodwell was opposed.

Mr. Jones—I am authorized to withdraw the name of Mr. Woodwell.

Jerry Murphy—Then I move that Col. Blakeley be elected by acclamation.

Chris. Magee—We don't want any one elected by acclamation. Let the voting proceed.

Mr. McClung—What's the use of proceeding? Col. Woodwell's name is withdrawn

Delegate—It don't make any difference if it is; we want the voting to go on.

The Chair directed the voting to continue, and in a few minutes the result was announced as follows:

Blakely.......................137
Woodwell......................85

The result was received with automatic applause, which appeared to come mechanically, and not as though prompted by enthusiasm. Mr. Blakely made a brief speech upon assuming the position, and asked that he be given assistance in preserving order and transacting business. He was assisted.

THE CONTESTANTS.

Chris. Magee moved that a committee be appointed on contested seats. The motion was carried, and the Chair appointed John Semple, Robert Dalzell, J. McClurg, C. L. Magee and John Evans.

A Delegate—Oh, that's set up.

The committee retired and a delegate moved that the Convention proceed to nominate a candidate for Sheriff. The President stated that the names of candidates could be suggested but that they would not be voted for until after the committee had submitted its report.

The organization was completed by continuing the temporary Secretaries.

Messrs. W. J. Diehl, Thomas W. Lindsay, R. H. Fife and Samuel B. Cluley were next suggested as candidates.

During the absence of the Committee on Contested Seats it leaked out that R. W. Mackey was in the room with them and then some of the delegates did raise a fuss. Mr. Scott, of the Seventeenth ward, wanted to know what right he had there and demanded his instant removal.

A delegate—Yes, put Bob. Mackey out. What buasiness has he in there, anyhow.

James Littell—Mr. Chairman, go in and bring out the committee. They're all drinking whisky in there. I wouldn't be jealous, though, if it wasn't Philadelphia whisky—they don't patronize home industry. [Laughter.]

There being no apparent prospect of the committee reporting anyways soon, the Chairman suggested that it would be perhaps well enough to proceed with the balloting, omitting those who were contesting seats.

The Chair—Is it the will of the Convention to proceed with the ballot, or to wait until the committee reports?

Mr. Elliott—The committee will be ready in ten minutes.

The Chair—The gentleman reports that the committee will report soon.

Mr. Littell—The delegates want to go home. Let's go on with the ballot.

Mr. Elliott—My time is as precious as that of any person; but we came here to nominate some one, and I intend to stay. If delegates want to go home, let them go.

A Rural Delegate—Oh, that's your game is it? I want you to understand that we have as much muscle as you have. I can stay here a month.

Another Country Delegate—And so can I.

THE REPORT.

Five or ten minutes more elapsed, when the Chair said that the time given the committee in which to make a report had expired, and he put the motion as to whether they should proceed with the balloting. It was decided carried, and the calling of the roll was about to commence, when the committee made its appearance, and presented its report through Mr. Magee. It recommended that the contested seat in the Second ward be given to Tom. Phelps, City Assessor; in the Sixth ward to Ed. Everson; in the Tenth ward to D. Beck, and that Wm. Wettach, as delegate at large from the Third ward, Allegheny, be thrown out. The balance of the report favored the retention of the sitting members. It was in evidence before the committee, in the form of a certificate from the Judge of Election, that Mr. Wettach, who was deprived of his seat, had received 326 votes at the election and that John Renwick, who was admitted, had received but 262. The report created the most intense disgust among the Lindsay delegates, many of whom wanted to withdraw from the Convention, and all of whom charged that the report was unfair. They moved to lay it on the table, and as the opposing interests would not consent to that they refused to allow any business to be transacted. The motion to lay on the table was put and decided lost, and upon a second vote the Chair decided the report adopted.

The Lindsay men never for a moment ceased their clamoring for the tabling of the report, and amid all the confusion an attempt was made to enter upon a ballot, but it certainly was voting under the greatest difficulty. The Secretaries succeeded in getting as far as the second precinct of the Tenth ward, but farther it was a matter of utter impossibility to go. Many of the delegates moved to adjourn and as many opposed such a proceeding. The President could do nothing else but pace the platform, and Dr. Graham, who had been calling out the names of delegates, laid down his tally sheet, picked up his hat and left. The motions to adjourn were renewed but no notice was taken of them until Chris. Magee moved to adjourn, when the President, without putting the motion, declared the Convention adjourned until next Tuesday. This was satisfactory to the Lindsay men and it being five o'clock the delegates soon departed.

THE BALLOT.

The vote so far as taken is as follows:

Diehl.......................21
Cluley......................1
Fife........................3
Lindsay.....................6

In explanation of this vote it is but justice to Mr. Fife to say that he did not claim any delegates in the first ten wards of the city, which accounts for the fact that no votes appear for him in the above list.

CONVENTION No. 2.

Recorder, Register and Clerk of Orphans' Court.

The Convention No. 2 met in the Common Pleas Court, room No. 1, and was called to order by Hon. John C. Newmyer, who made a few remarks counseling order and harmony in order that the work done might be satisfactorily to the people.

The following gentlemen were then chosen temporary Secretaries: Wm. B. Neeper, George W. Wilson, B. C. Christy, A. L. Thomas, John A. Fox, I. N. Patterson, R. P. Duff, William Seibert, John McDonald and Samuel McElroy.

The delegates then handed in their credentials—the delegates from the cities passing up the papers to the clerks at one side of the desk, and those from the country districts at the other side, by which means the work was very considerably expedited. When all had been handed in it appeared that there were contests in the Second district of the Twelfth ward and in the First precinct of Lower St. Clair township. There was a very full representation, as will be seen by the following list, prepared by the Secretaries:

PITTSBURGH.

First ward—C. Heidner, F. Jacobs, W. J. Fullerton.

West Deer—W. H. McGill.

The Chair having announced that the election of a permanent Chairman was next in order, S. P. Fulton, Esq., and Hon. Miles S. Humphreys were nominated. The latter declined, and Mr. Fulton was elected unanimously by acclamation. On taking the chair, Mr. Fulton made some remarks congratulatory upon the character of the Convention, and in reference to the important work which the Convention had before it. He closed by expressing the hope that everything be done on the square, and assured the Convention that as far as he was concerned he would endeavor to have fair play all around.

The motion was then made and carried continuing the temporary Secretaries as permanent Secretaries.

A motion for the appointment of a committee of five on contested seats was amended, and the number increased to nine. The Chair was unable to decide whether the amendment was carried or not, when finally a motion was made that all the contestants be allowed to vote. A number of the delegates now wished to know where the contestants were from, when finally the motion was adopted.

Nominating the Recorder.

Nominations for Recorder were now, on motion, declared in order, when R. J. Richardson, Melchior Vance and George R Slater were nominated. A motion to proceed with nominations for Register and Orphans' Court Clerk was declared out of order, when a motion to proceed with the choice of a Recorder was carried against some slight opposition. One delegate suggested that it would be better to vote for one man at a time, as there would be less conniving. The Secretaries were about to proceed with the ballot, when the names of Messrs. Slater and Varner were withdrawn, and amid great enthusiasm Mr. Richardson was elected by acclamation. The nominee, in response to loud calls, mounted the platform and said: Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the Convention: I thank you most heartily for the compliment paid me today. All I can say is that with three years' experience I promise you that I will endeavor to make you a better Recorder than ever—if I am elected. [Cheers and cries of "good!" "good!"]

The Registership.

The next business in order was the selection of a candidate for Register and Clerk of Orphans' Court. The following gentlemen were named: Edward J. Allen, James K. Case, B. F. Brown and Joseph H. Gray. The name of the latter was presented by J. Vannote, who made a short address, referring to the military record of the nominee, and to the ability with which he has filled the office in the past. His nomination, Mr. V. thought, should strengthen the ticket.

A delegate was vociferous in his demand that Allegheny City be first called on the roll. His motion, however, was amended that the list be called in accordance with the printed slip, to prevent confusion. The Secretaries then proceeded to call the roll. As the last district was called the friends of Gray showed signs of exultation. Amid the confusion,

Mr. Vannote rose and referred to the fact that all the tallies kept in his neighborhood showed that Gray had received from 115 to 118 votes—more than enough to elect him—and he moved to make it unanimous.

The Convention would not hear the motion, however, and loud calls were made for an announcement of the vote and a "second ballot." The Gray delegate several times attempted to get his motion into shape, but could not be heard. Just then a delegate asked leave to change his vote to Gray.

CHANGING VOTES.

Another Delegate—I desire to change my vote from Case to Gray.

Another Delegate—I object to that, Mr. Chairman. The gentleman was elected to this Convention for Case.

Delegate—Any delegate has a right to change his vote.

The greatest disorder ensued now, so that it was almost impossible for the Chairman to be heard.

Mr. Vannote—Mr. Chairman—

Chairman—The chair decides that any delegate—

Delegate—No, he has not.

Chairman—Has a right to change his vote before the result is announced.

Cries of "no," "no," "no," many of the delegates seeming to be interested in making a noise for the "fun of it."

The chair, however, held to his decision, and asked any delegate dissatisfied to take an appeal.

An obstreperous delegate did take an appeal, but it was not seconded.

There was then a general desire expressed to change, and the confusion increased—some objecting and others determined to change. Finally when the chair could be heard, he said: "Let no gentleman object to a change unless the decision of the chair is appealed from. It's an old established principle that changes can be made before the announcement of the result."

There was still a disposition to allow no changes, and at this juncture Col Allen was granted permission to speak. He said he was not a delegate but a candidate, and through the courtesy of the Convention was allowed to say a few words. He said he had been in the Shenandoah valley once when he was badly defeated, but he didn't propose to withdraw here without considerable of a fight. He insisted that every man should have a right to change his vote. It was perfectly fair and parliamentary before the result was announced. He wanted to see things done on the square, and said whoever the nominee of the Convention would be he should have his support, but he must go from this Convention with nothing but fair play stamped upon his nomination. The speech was loudly applauded.

Several delegates now changed their votes, and the hubbub commenced again. There were loud calls for the announcement of the ballot without the changes. There was a loud demand from the other side that the changes be included.

Mr. John A. Fox, a Secretary, here undertook to read the result, with the changes.

Secretary McDonald (violently gesticulating)—"Stop, we don't want your changes. You're not going to elect a man over our heads."

Mr. Fox—"That's my tally."

Mr. McDonald—"We don't care for your tally. If Mr. Gray's friends want a satisfactory vote, they will allow a second ballot, as the Secretaries don't agree."

WITHDRAWAL.

Mr. Frank P. Case, after a hasty consulation with one of the candidates, here mounted the platform and said that, in the interests of harmony for the Republican party, he would withdraw the name of James K. Case.

There were loud calls of "Oh! no!" "Stick to it!" but the withdrawal was adhered to.

Some case men at this juncture again tried to change their votes.

Delegate—Mr. President, I want to say a word, too. If the Allen men are all going to change to Gray, let the Brown men change from Brown to Case, and then we'll have it even, [Cries of "Good!" "Good!"]

Tremendous cries for an announcement of the vote without changes were now made.

Chairman—The decision of the Chair is that the vote be announced. Any one has a right to change before the vote is announced. I will announce the vote without any changes, on which all the Secretaries agree, except one. Mr. Gray has 119 votes.

Cries of "That's not so."

Chairman—No; Mr. Gray has 114 votes, Mr. Allen 38, Mr. Brown 33, and Mr. Case 38. With the changes, Mr. Gray has 123 votes, Mr. Allen 37, Mr. Brown 34, and Mr. Case 31.

The result was not satisfactory to the Convention and a second ballot was ordered.

As the calling of the roll proceeded the Case men, it became evident, were going over to Gray, and so when the list was about two-thirds disposed of Messrs. Allen and Brown withdrew and Mr. Gray was then nominated by acclamation.

THE NOMINATION ENDORSED.

Cries were now made for Gray, Allen and Brown. Mr. Allen came forward and said: Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention—In my remarks I referred to the fact that I had had the misfortune to be defeated once in the Shenandoah, but that I thought I was not defeated here. I wish to withdraw the latter part of those remarks. I have been a delegate to a good many Conventions, and I think you will acknowledge that I have gained some little reputation for insisting on fair play. I must acknowledge, however, that I have had fair play in this Convention. I think that Mr. Gray has been fairly and squarely nominated, and I will give the nominee my hearty support. [Cheers]

Mr. Gray thanked the Convention for the flattering endorsement of his past administration of the Register's office, and he would promise, as his friend Mr. Richardson had done, to fulfill his duties in the future equally as well, and if possible, better than in the past.

Mr. Brown was called for, and said that he thanked his friends who had stood by him, for their support. He was satisfied that the nomination was fairly made, and he would support Mr. Gray.

THE LANCASTER PLATFORM ENDORSED.

The Chair now read the following resolution, which was adopted unanimously:

Resolved, That the platform adopted at the late Republican State Convention held at Lancaster, is in full accord with the sentiments of the Republicans of Allegheny county, and is hereby declared as expressive of the principles upon which the ticket this day nominated will receive our cordial support.

A motion to the effect that the chairman meet with the other chairmen and appoint an Executive Committee, was carried without dissent, when the Convention adjourned with cheers for the nominees.

CONVENTION No. 3.

Clerk of Courts and Director of the Poor.

Convention No. 3 met in the Common Pleas Court, room No. 2, and was called to order promptly at eleven o'clock by Col. Thomas M. Bayne. He stated that the selection of one candidate for the office of Clerk of Courts and one candidate for the office of the Director of the Poor constituted the business of the Convention.

Messrs. E. G. Krehan, of the South Side; John Ogden of Allegheny; D. L. Smith, H. M. Scott, Alex. Pitcairn, R. C. Frazier, Ad. Fergus, Harry Hoffler and John Bradley were elected by acclamation as temporary Secretaries.

The credentials of the delegates were then handed in. The list of members of the Convention, as prepared by the Secretaries, are as follows:

PITTSBURGH.

First ward—Fred. Schild, John Seiferth, Andrew Humbert.
Second ward—Ben Darlington.
Third ward—John Born, Clem. Kreuter.
Fourth ward—W. R. Brown, David M. Martin, N. A. Clowes.
Fifth ward—W. Lewis, Robert Boyd.

The Convention was not full, as there were a number of districts not represented from the wards in this city and Allegheny and from the townships.

On motion of Mr. Jos. Butler, Mr. John G. MacConnell was nominated as permanent chairman, which was afterwards agreed to by acclamation. (Calls for speech.) Mr. MacConnell took the chair and made a very neat but brief speech to the Convention, calling to memory the duty before them and urging them to regain the ground which was lost in last fall's campaign.

Joseph A. Butler, Samuel Hastings. Daniel Wenke, Samuel Neillie and S. Thompson as Vice Presidents, were also elected by acclamation.

The temporary secretaries were retained as permanent officers of the Convention.

A motion was made that the nomination for a candidate for the office of Clerk of Courts be proceeded with. The motion was adopted.

Simultaneously from all parts of the house the name of W. H. McCleary was called, and on motion he was nominated by acclamation.

Loud calls were then made for the nominee, who took the stand and was greeted with applause. He said that he only could thank the Convention for the honor conferred upon him, and that he would promise that if elected he would, as in the past, do his duty. The speaker retired and the Convention gave him three cheers.

A motion was made that the city members of the Convention adjourn, which was agreed to. The country delegates remained to nominate a Director of the Poor, with which the city delegates had nothing to do.

The Convention then proceeded to nominate candidates for Directors of the Poor, and Minas Tindle and James W. Bell were placed in nomination.

After calling over one-half the names of the delegates, and finding that Mr Bell was largely in the majority, a motion was made that Mr. Bell be nominated by acclamation, which was agreed to.

The Convention then adjourned.

CONVENTION NO. 4.

Controller and Two Commissioners.

The Convention for the nomination of a candidate for Controller, and two candidates for County Commissioner, assembled in room No. 2 of the Common Pleas Court No. 2, and was called to order promptly at eleven o'clock, by Captain John W. Gilfillan.

The first thing in order was the election of temporary secretaries, which resulted in the choice of the following gentlemen: J. A. McDevitt, C. P. Gillespie, J. A. Miller, Thomas H. Hunter, R. D. Nicholson, and John G. Little.

Credentials of the delegates from the different precincts were next presented, and the names enrolled, which showed that all the districts were represented, with one or two exceptions.

The list of delegates were as follows:

PITTSBURGH.

First ward—August Buch, John Cuthbert, M. Shuetz.
Second ward—J. M. Gazzam, Reese Owens, Jno. Wilson.

During the calling of the names of the delegates, objections were made to those from the Second district of the Thirteenth ward, city, and those from Sharpsburg. The objections were subsequently withdrawn, however, and the gentlemen were allowed seats in the Convention.

The Permanent Organization.

At this point Russell Errett, Esq., thought a permanent organization was in order and followed his remarks by nominating Mr. Wm. M. Gazzam, of the First ward, Pittsburgh, for permanent chairman. Mr. Joseph F. Trimble was named by half a dozen voices for the same position, and a motion prevailed that the nominations be declared closed.

The "ayes" and "nayes" were ordered, which resulted as follows:

Trimble.......................145
Gazzam........................64

Mr. Trimble took the chair amid great applause, and made a few remarks in which he thanked the Convention for the honor conferred and said he would endeavor to see that everything was done decently and in order.

A resolution was offered to the effect that the temporary secretaries be retained as the scribes of the permanent organization, which was adopted.

A motion to appoint a Committee on Contested Seats prevailed, and Peter Dressler, Charles Hetzell, Philip Hoerr, W. R. Johnson and F. M. Gipner were named as said committee. They were afterwards discharged, as there were no seats contested.

Mr. S. A. Johnson moved that a Committee on Resolutions be appointed, which was objected to by a number of delegates, who thought that it was not the province of the Convention to take action in the matter. If anything was to be done, Mr. Johnston thought it should be through committees from the different Conventions.

Mr. Kirk believed resolutions to be a good thing, and favored a committee to take some action, either as the representatives of this Convention or to meet with similar committees from the other Conventions. He said the party would advocate certain principles and intended to adopt a course which ought to be made known to the people.

After some further discussion on the subject, the motion was lost.

Nominations for Controller.

Mr William Paul, of Allegheny, moved that the Convention go into nomination for Controller. Carried.

The same gentleman was in the act of nominating Henry Warner, Esq. for the position, when more than a dozen voices was heard saying "I nominate Henry Warner."

Mr. David Kirk nominated Mr. Charles W. Lewis and the nominations closed.

A motion prevailed that the ballot for Controller be taken, and the ayes and nays were called, which resulted as follows:

Warner.......................156
Lewis........................65

Mr. Kirk thanked the Convention for the complimentary vote cast for Mr. Lewis, and moved that the nomination of Mr. Warner be declared unanimous, which was carried with cheers.

The President announced that Mr. Warner had received the vote or the Convention, and he was declared the nominee amid great cheering.

As the votes were being recorded, every one seemed to watch for whom the different delegates cast their ballots, and when a prominent man would name his choice, there would be a low murmur in the different parts of the room.

Mr. Warner, who was present, was called upon, and in response said he was not given to speech making, and that if he was, he would not detain the Convention by any extended remarks. He would only say that he returned his sincere thanks for the honor in unanimously renominating him, and he promised to conduct the business as in the past, without detriment to the county, and without bringing reproach upon the Republican party. [Cheers.]

At this point a motion was made to adjourn, which was lost.

Nominations for Commissioners.

The Chair announced that nominations for Commissioner were in order, and the following candidates were announced: John McClelland, Augustus Beckert, J. G. Murray, J. H. Robb, Geo. W. Weddell, William Shanks, M. H. Allen, Charles Pugh, James Davis, William Beecher, J. F. Edmundson, Allen Means, Samuel O'Connor, William Moore and James Patterson.

The ayes and nays were called, and during the polling of the vote the name of William Beecher was withdrawn. The tally sheet showed the following result:

John McClelland	125	James Davis	11
Augustus Beckert	107	W. Beecher, withdrawn.
J. G. Murray	75	J. F. Edmundson	16
J. H. Robb	23	Allen Means	9
Geo. W. Weddell	32	Samuel O'Connor	15
Wm. Shanks	10	Wm. Moore	3
M. H. Allen	8	James Patterson	1
Charles Pugh	5

Mr. McClelland having received a majority of all the votes cast, was declared one of the nominees, and the Convention proceeded to a second ballot, no other candidate having received the requisite number to be declared a nominee.

A motion was made to strike off all but the two which had the highest number of votes, on the list. This was amended by substituting "all who have less than twenty votes," which was adopted.

A voice from one of the country delegates was heard—"I move that Murray be nominated by acclamation." This was hissed by the friends of the other candidates, and the motion was not entertained.

The Secretaries announced that on account of the resolution passed, there were only four candidates before the Convention, viz; Beckert, Murras, Robb and Weddell.

Captain Gilfillan took the floor and addressed the President, who allowed him to proceed. The gentleman began making a speech in favor of Mr. Murray, and had not proceeded far until his object was discovered and a general howl was set up which drowned the speakers voice. Mr. Gilfillan, after speaking for a moment as to the duties of the Convention, made an appeal for a candidate from the South Side, and then mentioned Mr. Murray, as an available man and one who would add strength to the ticket. He had only proceeded thus far until the crowd began to call for the second ballot. Others tried to get the floor, and for a few minutes the chair was unable to control matters, but finally put a stop to all speech-making. The ayes and nays were again ordered, with the following result:

Beckert	108	Robb	withdrawn
Murray	82	Weddell	15

During the calling of the roll and the recording of the votes, the name of Mr. Robb was withdrawn, which left the field open to only three men.

BECKERT DECLARED THE NOMINEE.

When the vote was announced and the President declared Mr. Beckert the nominee, a shout of approval went up from his friends, while those who had hoped to see Murray successful called for a second ballot. From various parts of the room it was charged that Beckert had not received a majority of the votes, but only a plurality. Others were dissatisfied because a number of the votes of delegates who had been out of the room, had been recorded just before the President announced the result, and those who objected held that if the delegates wanted to vote they should not leave the room while the vote was being taken. In the midst of the excitement, and while a number were protesting against the result, as announced, the President said that although there were two hundred and twenty delegates in the Convention, which made it necessary for a candidate to poll one hundred and eleven votes, to have a majority, in case all voted, he decided that Mr. Beckert was the nominee, as he had one hundred and nine votes out of two hundred and five, which was a majority of all the votes cast. This decision was accepted as fair on all hands.

As soon as this dicision was rendered a motion for an adjournment was made and carried.

A RESOLUTION ADOPTED.

While the Secretaries were summing up the tally sheet, Mr. W. B. Rodgers offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the County Executive Committee shall consist of one good, reliable Republican citizen from each election district in the county, and that no additions shall be made to said committee, except in case of a vacancy, and such vacancy shall be filled by the appointment of a citizen from the district in which the vacancy occurs.

An amendment was offered to substitute the word "two" for "one" from each election district, which was accepted and the motion so amended was unanimously adopted.

The Convention concluded its labors at two o'clock, having been in session just three hours.

After the Opera—What Mr. Fife says.

A representative of the GAZETTE thought it might be interesting for the general public to know how the Sheriffalty candidates felt after the exhilarating hubbub in the Convention, and so sought out Mr. Fife last evening. The gentleman seemed to have an even pulse and expressed himself as perfectly confident of the result. "You have no idea then," said the scribe, "of letting up any now."

"Not a bit of it," was the reply. "I'll hold out to the last."

"But," said the interviewer, "they say you have made a combination with Diehl, and so gave away the chairmanship."

"Whoever says so tells what is false. I didn't do anything of the kind. It was a trick played on me. I understood that Diehl was to run H. H. McCormick as his man for chairman, and in that way show his strength. That was the understanding they had among themselves, I am told, up to within a few minutes of the organization. I wanted every candidate to run a man, and thus each could show up his strength, and I was as much surprised as anybody when that was not done."

"What brought about this change of tactics then?"

"I can only explain it on the ground that Diehl's friends were afraid to show their hand, and so they tried to get up an impression that there was a combination with me, by having their men vote for my candidate."

"Then you say you have made no combination with Diehl, and do not propose to go over to him?"

"I say so, most emphatically. I am in no combination, and will make none. I will stand out to the last. I feel certain of my nomination. I had there to-day at least one hundred delegates who would have gone for me on the first ballot, and had enough pledges for the second ballot to put me through by a good majority. I propose to fight it out to the end alone, and if I go down under the combinations of others, I will go down with flying colors."

"How about your delegates; will they all stand by you next Tuesday?"

"Every man of them; yes, sir, every man of them. They will stay with me all the time. They comprise some of the very best men in the county, and no bluff game will have any effect on them. They will be on hand next Tuesday, and I feel certain of the result."

Some of Mr. Fife's friends here came up, and the interview was closed.

The Lindsay Outlook.

The reporter next encountered Mr. Lindsay, who was sounded as to how "he liked it thus far."

"Like it," said the candidate, "I don't like it at all. The way they threw out delegates who were fairly elected, was the biggest outrage ever perpetrated on an opponent. I wouldn't care for a square stand up fight, but such trickery as that is outrageous."

"Why, you seem to speak pretty strongly."

"Well, sir, I think any fair minded man must look at in the same way. You saw how it was done. They threw out Dolph Ludwig and put in Tom. Phelps when the fact was Ludwig at the Primaries beat Phelps two to one. They did the same in the other contested cases. Why they only got up these contested cases to throw out my men and put their own in, but I'll whip them at their own game."

"You had some pretty hard work, hadn't you?"

"Of course it is hard work to butt against the City Hall ring and the Philadelphia ring with the entire State Treasury to back them. But I'll fight it out and will win yet."

"Then you think your men will be on hand next Tuesday."

"I am certain every man will be there and we'll have fair play too. All I want is fair play and I'm going to have it."

"How about combinations?"

"I don't have anything to do with them. I'm going to fight this thing out to the end."

"Did you poll all your vote on the chairmanship fight?"

"No; I know of at least ten men who will vote for me that voted for Blakely for chairman."

"And so you don't feel like lowering your flag?"

"Not a bit of it. I know where I stand. My delegates will stand by me, and next Tuesday will witness a different result from to-day."

The reporter next went in search of Mr. Diehl, but was unable to find him. The friends of the gentleman, however, said they were in no way discouraged, and that when it came to a square vote, their man would have the advantage. All the delegates were prepared to be on hand on Tuesday, and vote for Diehl first, last, and all the time.

So matters seem to be in shape for a pretty triangular fight next Tuesday.

The Ticket.

The ticket, so far as nominated yesterday, is as follows:

Controller—Henry Warner.
Commissioners—John McClelland and Augustus Beckert.
Recorder—Ralph Richardson.
Register and Clerk of Orphans' Court—Joseph H. Gray.
Clerk of Courts—W. H. McCleary.
Director of the Poor—James W. Bell.

The Delegates.

In giving the list of delegates as above, it will be observed that we have omitted to name the precincts in each district from which the delegate came. We have simply given the district and the delegates in the order of the precincts they represent.

Mr. Mackey Goes Eastward.

Mr. Mackey, the distinguished foreigner, who has spent the last few days in this city, and who was an interested participant in the scenes of yesterday, left last evening on the Fast Line for his Philadelphia home. He was attended to the depot by a few friends, and his last words that floated back upon the evening zephyrs, were an assurance that "I'll be back boys, next Tuesday."

A Suggestion.

In this connection a suggestion might be in order. If the parties interested will secure Library Hall or the Opera House for next Tuesday, the business can be conducted with perhaps less confusion. The Parquette could be reserved exclusively for delegates—none to be admitted without tickets—and then each man could have a seat and rise when he desired to vote or to speak to the Chair. This would materially aid the chairman in preserving order, as it would do away with delegates standing around. When they all have to stand it is hard for the Chair to tell just who has the floor.

As Good as New.

The above expression is peculiarly applicable to the individual whose system has been renovated by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. If any man or woman in this community has a friend suffering from the various pangs which indigestion, nervous disease, weak back or kidney trouble can inflict, the most rational advice he or she can give is—"Procure the Bitters at once, and use them regularly." If this advice is heeded, we guarantee that in a short time the invalid will feel "as good as new," so marked and so rapid will be the change for the better wrought by this peerless invigorant, nervine and diuretic. It not only re-establishes indigestion and stimulates the organs of urination into healthful activity, but expels by the natural outlets of the body those acrid elements in the secretion which, when absorbed into the blood, produce rheumatism, gout and neuralgia. Moreover, its gentle though effectual action admirably fits it for the use of females in delicate health, who require a tonic stimulant and corrective.

A CHERISHED DESIRE.

For years it has been the cherished desire of a large class that there might be a medicine discovered which would entirely cure Scrofula and not leave a taint of the disease in the system.

Setting aside all controversy upon the theory of transmissible scrofula, the fact is undisputable that the disease has existed for centuries, and was never more prevalent than at the present time; and though it is hereditary in its nature, the more frequent cause of the disease may be attributed to whatever impairs the vital energies, such as dissipation, unwholesome food, intemperance, want of cleanliness of person, over exertion of mind of body, etc.

Scrofula often manifests itself in glandular tumors, frequently in the neck, causing no pain at first but proceeds slowly to an inflammatory state, and generally after a long time, forms an ulcer. In some cases the eyes are the principal seat of the disease, having constantly an inflamed appearance, The bones of scrofulous persons are liable to disease, especially those of the spine. The lungs are particularly liable to an attack by the formation of tubercles, and invalids are often deceived into the belief that they have deep-seated consumption, and for which they are treated, when in reality their trouble is caused from Scrofula in the blood.

In all the various forms of Scrofula, and the long train of diseases it induces, the patient can only obtain substantial benefit through the blood with vegetable substances, and from which VEGETINE is carefully compounded from the best ingredients the dispensary of nature furnishes, making it one of the greatest cleansers of the blood that is or can be put together.

VEGETINE will eradicate every trace of Scrofula from the system, as the following reliable evidence will show:

SPENT ALL MY MONEY
For Medical Advice and PAYING FOR MEDICINE

BOSTON, May 15, 1871.

H. R. STEVENS: Dear Sir—I have been a great sufferer from Scrofula and Scrofula Tumors (as many in this vicinity can bear testimony,) and I think the whole world ought to know of my case and how I was cured.

About eleven years ago several small kernels made their appearance on the glands of my neck, gradually growing larger, and one of them grew into so large a tumor it was frightful to look at; while the others would range from the size of a hen's egg down to a good sized chestnut.

For a period of ten years I spent all my earnings obtaining medical advice and paying for medicine, getting no better and constantly growing worse; have thoroughly tried every remedy that we could hear of which was recommended for the blood; have been treated by the physicians at the hospital and by those who bear the title of being the best physicians in Boston, and was told by them that they could do nothing more for me, unless they cut out the large tumor, which had at this point reached an enormous size.

I had frequent attacks of dizziness, with a constant pain in my head, and most excruciating pains in my side; was very weak and much reduced, and all the physicians who attended me pronounced it the worst case of Scrofula Tumors they had ever seen. This was my hopeless condition when I heard of VEGETINE and how it was curing Scrofula where everything else had failed. I procured some of it, and discontinued the use of all other medicines, and in less than two weeks I could see a great change; I was relieved from the pain in my head, side and dizziness. I gained strength from day to day. I followed on taking VEGETINE for one year, according to directions, and it has entirely restored me to health; the large tumor and small kernels have all disappeared from my neck, and the whole surface of my skin is fair and smooth. All my friends, to whom reference can be given, pronounce this the most remarkable cure of Scrofula Tumors they have ever heard of; and this one case must convince any one suffering from any disease of the blood, though physicians do say you cannot be cured. You can be if you will persevere and take this good medicine, for it will, without doubt, cure you, as it did me. I am, sir, respectfully and gratefully yours,

ELLEN O'HEARN.

MISS O'HEARN has been a domestic in my family for eleven years, and I fully endorse the above statement. I think the great value of VEGETINE ought to be known in every family, and I improve every opportunity to speak in its favor.

MRS. T. TILLSON, 439 Broadway.

PIC-NIC GROVE,
HULTON STATION, A. V. R. R. This Grove is one of the largest in Allegheny county, located at Hulton Station, on the line of the Allegheny Valley Railroad, only ten miles from the Union Depot, a sufficient distance to avoid the annoyance of disorderly characters who frequently disturb picnic parties at groves near the city. It is a cool and secluded place, thickly covered with beautiful shade-trees, having one of the largest and most convenient platforms for dancing in the country, and all other necessary buildings. Good cool water. Dinners furnished at reasonable rates at the Grove. A beautiful drive to this Grove, the roads being always in a splendid condition. This Grove will be rented to lodges, literary societies, military organizations, socials, clubs, churches, Sunday schools, &c. Strangers renting will be required to furnish references. The A. V. R. R. has a double track to Hulton and runs ten daily trains, under careful management, all stopping at the Grove. For terms and full particulars, inquire of WEDDELL & HOLMES, 347 Liberty street, or G.
